Rain on Chain, go away

Business slow during cold, wet start to summer season

TINA L. SWIECH

Staff Reporter

While a number of businesses didn't make the Memorial Day money they were hoping to, during the cold, damp and drizzly days, at least one came out on top.

"We did quite well. It was probably one of our better Memorial Days," said Bill Falster, co-owner of U Hot Dog Choo Choo.

Falster said his hot dog/sandwich shop on Route 12 in Fox Lake tends to do a great deal of business when the weather is inclement.

He attributes the success during those days when ships are ashore, and boaters are cleaning their craft waiting for another day.

Resorts and restaurants on the water are known for their high-traffic volume when the skies are sunny. Falster suggested when some of the out-of-town boaters heard the Fox River would be closed for the holiday due to the high level of water they thought, so would the Chain.

However the lakes on the Chain were open with the requirement of operating at no-wake.

Pete Jakstas, owner/operator of the Mineola Marina and Hotel in Fox Lake said, for the most part, resorts and marinas lost out big last weekend. "Everybody suffered. [They] lost lots of revenue," he explained.

Jakstas is hoping the long-range weather forecast, which he learned about earlier in the week, will change for the better. So far the weather bureau has called for rain on both Friday and Saturday, he said.

A Fox Waterway Agency director and the owner of Baker's Marine Support in Antioch, said he sees the unpleasant weather as a lack for businesses trying to get caught up after a See RAIN page A10

Waterway Agency to maintain protected areas

KEVIN HANRAHAN

While the Fox Waterway Agency hoped to enforce a consistent 150-foot, no-wake zone along the Chain of Lakes, a handful of residents pointed out a number of areas which required special attention and exceed the 150-foot marker.

The agency agreed to grandfather a number of swimming, fishing and natural resource areas under its buoy maintenance program. The agency had considered eliminating a number of buoys that outline swimming and fishing areas or leave the buoys to the maintenance of local homeowners associations along the lakes.

The affected areas include swimming and fishing areas along Channel Lake, Lake Catherine and Lake Marie as well as areas on Pistakee Lake.

"The areas that were always protected by the buoys will be grandfathered into the current system," said a spokesperson with the agency. "We're leaving everything the same, and we'll go ahead and maintain the buoys."

Some buoys near Stanton Bay will be removed, however, and the buoys along Meyer's Bay will be reconfigured to follow the shoreline. Some businesses and marinas will maintain their own buoys.

ACHS pedestrian

At least one Antioch Community High School student learned the hard way the importance of following traffic laws when it applies to pedestrians.

A student was struck by a car near the corner of Route 173 and Route 83 in front of the high school last Friday morning.

According to witness accounts compiled by police, Shaun Parrish, 18, of Antioch, darted between two cars waiting on Route 83 for the signal to turn green at Route 173. However, motorists in the left-turn lane had the green arrow to proceed, and Parrish was struck when he raced between the stopped cars and entered the left-turn lane.

"The pedestrian ran into the car, rather than the car running into the pedestrian," noted Deputy Chief Charles Watkins.

Antioch Rescue Squad transported Parrish to St. Therese Medical Center in Waukegan, where he was treated for a broken collar bone, a mild concussion and several bruises and cuts. He was released late that afternoon.

Parrish was subsequently charged with crossing the street improperly, not in compliance with the traffic light.

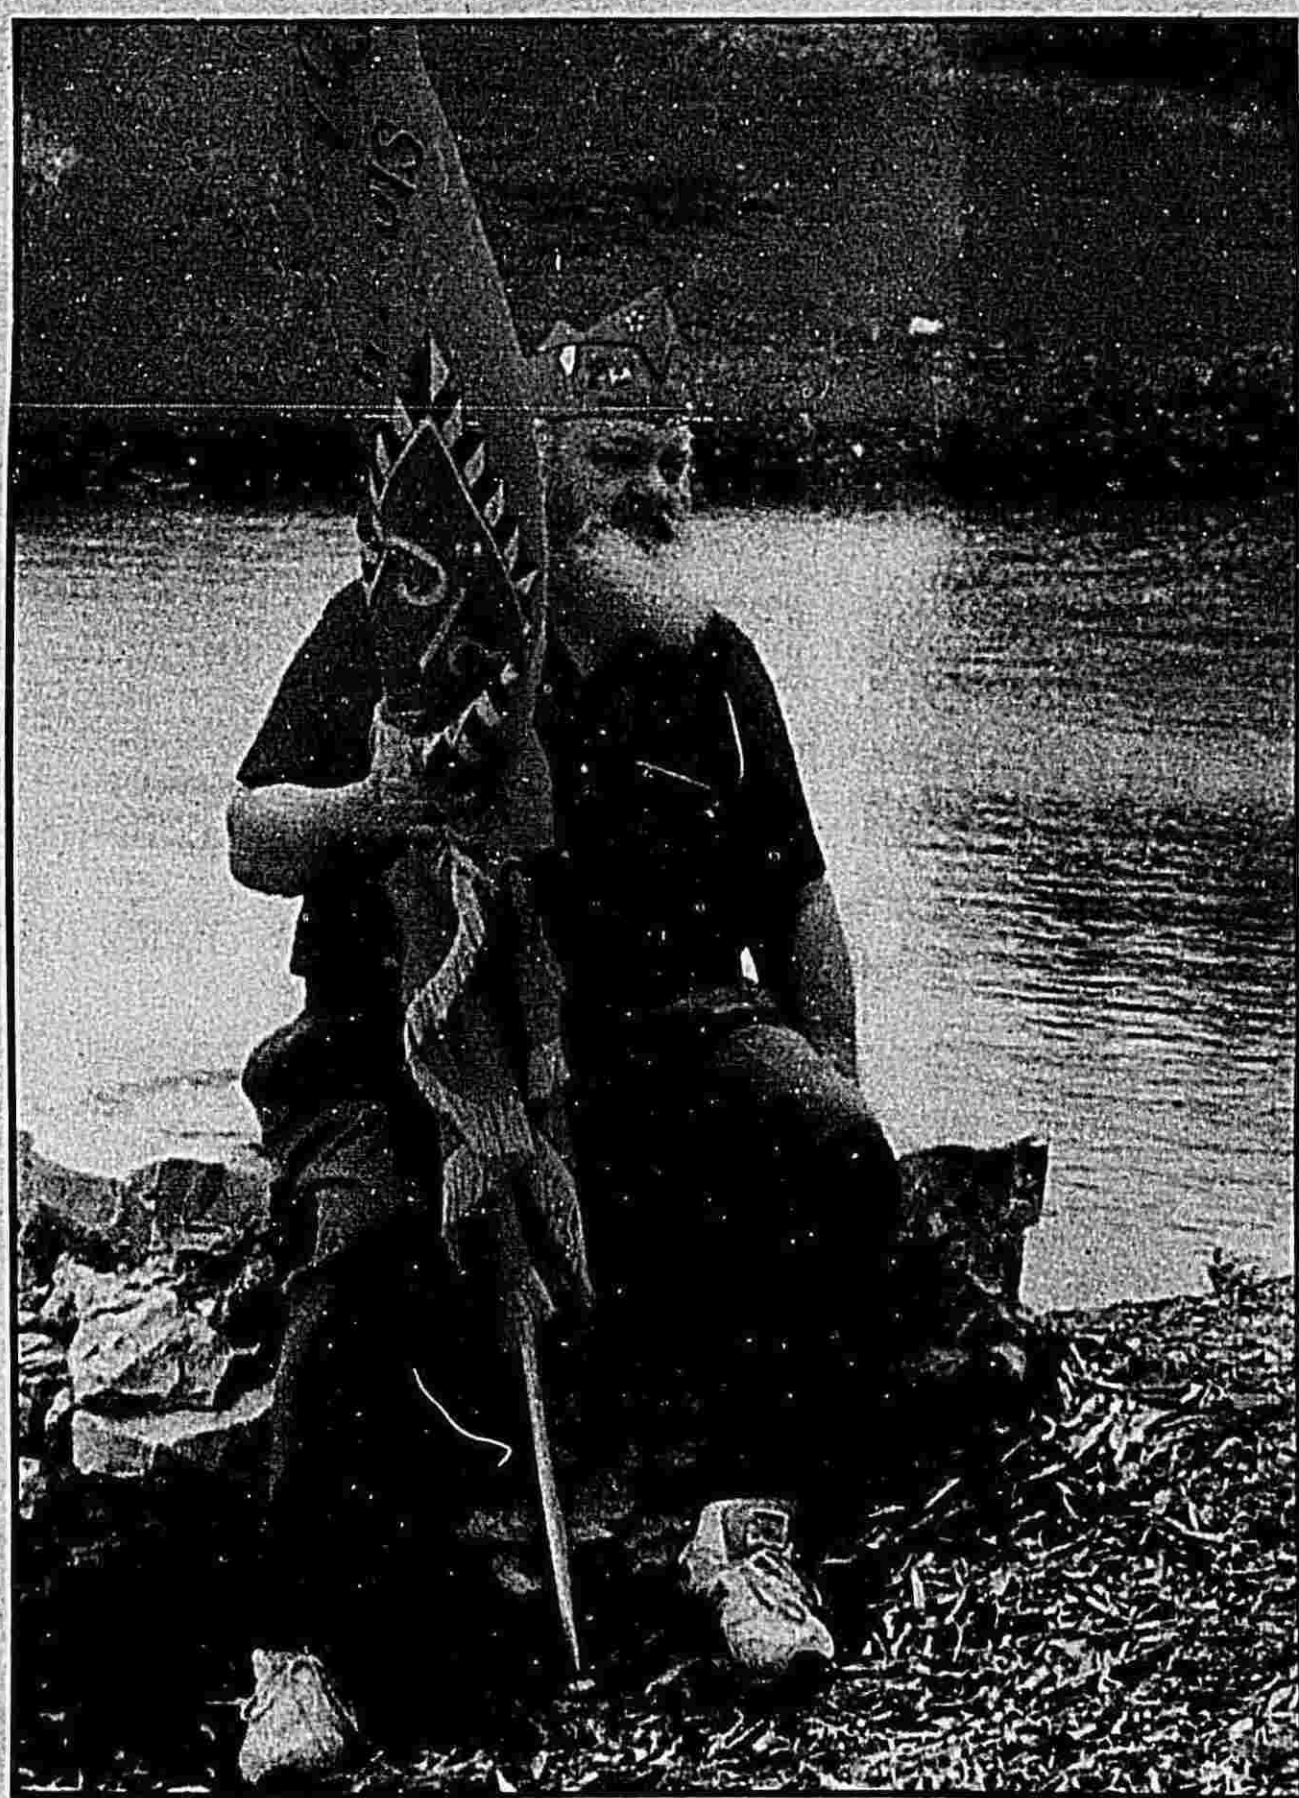

Watkins said the driver, whose name has been withheld, was not cited for traffic violations.

"She (the driver) said she never saw the pedestrian until he ran into her car," Watkins said. Another eyewitness account confirmed the driver's statement of Parrish darting in front of traffic.

Clarence Williams, dean of students at the high school, accompanied Parrish to the hospital. Williams noted that Parrish failed to use a nearby crosswalk.

"He was fortunate that he wasn't badly injured," Williams said.

He reported that Parrish, a junior at the high school, returned to school later that day to pick See ACCIDENT page A10

Baskin Robbins/Dunkin Donuts satisfies

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Trendy — could be.
High cholesterol — probably, but who cares.

Taste good — mmm mmm yes.
Either way you look at it—or taste it to be sensibly correct—an ice cream delight or a donut is going to be bring a smile to someone's face.

Larrie Mondie has combined the best of both the ice cream and donut worlds. His Baskin Robbins store has become one of the testing sites across the country for the new Baskin Robbins/Dunkin Donuts combination store.

Dunkin Donuts, the world's largest coffee and donut chain, and Baskin Robbins, the world's largest ice cream chain, have announced plans to open 1,000 combination stores by the year 2000.

And quickly in two months Mondie has become the top-selling combination store in the country—and even before his official grand opening.

Although he has operated the Baskin Robbins in town for the past six years, he is celebrating the grand opening of the combination store June 1 at 10 a.m. with 25-cent coffees and 31-cent ice creams.

"It's brought in a new crowd of people," Mondie said of the coffee and donut addition.

He now captures the early-morning coffee and donut crowd in addition to the mid-afternoon and evening ice cream seekers.

Cold, rainy days used to be down days of business. Now, they flourish with people seeking a hot cup of coffee.

"Bad weather was really tough for Baskin Robbins, but it is good for Dunkin Donuts because we sell a lot of coffee. Dunkin Donuts is known for its coffee," said Mondie, who manages the combo store with his wife Gayle.

Contrary to the popular television commercial image of the Dunkin Donut man getting up before the crack of dawn to make the donuts, Mondie benefits from having two shipments of fresh donuts come to him from a distributor in Waukegan.

"I am open at 5 a.m. now. Before, I was open at 10 a.m.," said Mondie, who is already missing his early morning fishing holes. Mondie must be doing something right as he has earned the regional Marketing Excellence Award numerous times. Last year, he earned the prestigious Extra Mile Award for improved sales and customer service. Only five awards are given across the country.

"I think it's my crew. We try to give 100 percent satisfaction," said Mondie.

At the same time, he remains active in the community by sponsoring bowling teams, volleyball teams, softball teams and a car at Wilmet Speedway. He also donates regularly to Lake County PADS.

In addition to 32 flavors of ice cream to go along with long johns and blueberry muffins, Mondie is already thinking about introducing more bagels, ice coffee and flavored coffee.

For chocolate lovers, Baskin Robbins is introducing the Chocolate Blast. While the more health-conscious consumer can experiment with the fat-free Smoothies.

Whether it's a donut filled with creme or a refreshing banana split, Mondie aims to satisfy all sweet tooths.

"If it puts a smile on your face, it must make you happy," Mondie said.

Lions Club adopts roadways

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Motorists entering Antioch from any direction will be greeted by the Lions Club.

The do-good social organization has adopted three major stretches of roadway that lead into Antioch as part of the Illinois Department of Transportation's "Adopt-A-Highway" program.

The Lions Club adopted the section of Route 83 from the stateline to Beach Grove Road, a section of Route 59 from Route 173 to Beach Grove Road, and a section of Route 173 from Deep Lake Road to Tiffany Road.

By adopting these stretches of roadway, the Lions Club has committed itself to cleaning those sections of debris and garbage four times a year, usually between May and November.

The first clean-up day is set for this Sunday, June 2. Lions Club members and other interested volunteers will meet at the Antioch Community High School parking lot at 7:30 a.m.

"We've seen signs on the county roads for groups adopting highways, but nobody has taken the initiative to take state routes," said Chuck Cermak, chairman of Adopt-A-Highway committee for the Lions Club.

He said IDOT will provide the signs, vests and bags. Ace Hardware in Antioch will donate gloves. Jensen House will provide coffee and donuts, and A to Z Rental will provide some other equipment.

For more information about volunteering call 395-2772.

Police stay prudent on wireless 911 debate

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

When the technology is available and the funding right, the Antioch Police Department may dispatch 911 calls from cellular phones.

Currently, the Lake County Sheriff's Office dispatches all 911 calls from cellular phones from a Public Safety Answering Point (PSAP) in Libertyville.

But some towns in Lake County are fighting for the opportunity to establish their own PSAP sites to handle wireless 911 calls.

Some communities argue that local dispatchers can direct the appropriate emergency agencies to a 911 call more quickly and more accurately via a local PSAP site than the county.

Municipalities would also support legislation that would allow them to collect a share of any surcharges the county receives for wireless 911 calls.

Antioch Deputy Chief Charles Watkins is taking a prudent approach as the technology improves and the debate over funding escalates in Springfield.

Watkins said he believes the technology is somewhat lacking, meaning if Antioch had a PSAP to dispatch wireless 911 calls for Antioch, Lake Villa and Lindenhurst, it would receive some calls from Fox Lake or Grayslake, and the Antioch dispatcher may not be equipped to direct an emergency in Fox Lake or Grayslake.

"Right now, I don't think the technology is there," Watkins said. "It makes more sense for the county to handle it."

He said the current technology may overlap 911 calls from other geographic areas, and he fears Antioch may be liable for any delay for dispatching those calls.

He also said the money issue is another concern. He believes that surcharge funds should be divided between the PSAP to maintain the PSAP and to staff it.

"There's a lot of money to be disbursed," Watkins said.

Various forms of legislation are floating around in Springfield as to how to divide surcharge money.

In the meantime, Watkins said will wait and see how things evolve. "If the technology is there, I'm all for it," Watkins said.

Trend shows rise in ACHS scholarships for graduates

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

As Antioch Community High School bid farewell to 460 graduates earlier this week, it appears more seniors left the grandstand with more scholarship money in their pockets than in years past.

During the recent honors night, at least 62 students were on hand ready to receive scholarships of various types and sizes. With the Class of 96 numbering about 460 students, that equates to roughly 13 percent of the graduating seniors receiving scholarships.

"We did see an increase in the number of scholarships, largely due to the 'Make A Difference' scholarships," noted Jane Abramson, a guidance counselor at the high school.

Twelve new scholarships were awarded under the "You Make A Difference" program. Following "Automania" in downtown Antioch, the car dealers donated six $500 scholarships.

Lakeland Publishing presented 4 scholarships, and the Class of 1996 added two more scholarships under the "You Make A Difference" program.

The Antioch Rotary Club also handed out 15 scholarships this year, and the Lions Club gave at least 13.

"The Rotary and Lions clubs are always generous each year," Abramson said. The Antioch Woman's Club and Junior Woman's Club, Sequoit Lodge, and the Lake Villa VFW were some of the other local clubs and organizations to help send students to college.

Each of the banks in town offer scholarships as well, and this year the State Bank of the Lakes gave two.

Abramson explained though that the school also recognized those students who attained scholarships at the colleges the students will be attending.

"This was the first year we recognized students who got scholarships from the universities," Abramson said.

She said each year the number of scholarship winners fluctuate and the criteria to be recognized on honors night differs.

Nevertheless, Abramson said she has seen a steady increase in the number of local scholarship opportunities available from civic groups, businesses and memorials.

"I think people like to give out scholarships. It feels good," Abramson said.

She said local businesses have stepped up in recent years.

"Not only do they get the PR, but they get the opportunity to help educate somebody in the community," Abramson said.

THE YOUNG DIABETIC

Minor foot cuts and scrapes, common in childhood, often require special attention in the case of juvenile diabetics. The danger lies in infections.

Diabetic children should always wear shoes, boots or other footwear to protect the feet. Embedded splinters or puncture wounds call for prompt professional treatment.

Infections in young feet also can result from blisters or ingrown toenails. A podiatrist may drain the infected area, prescribe an antibiotic and specify home care to help the healing. Sometimes surgery is needed to prevent a nail from becoming ingrown again.

Athlete's foot and other skin rashes, if not treated, may lead to secondary infections more difficult to treat. Any foot infection in juvenile diabetics should get prompt professional care.

Mom leaves kids home alone

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Two girls, 9 and 10, were left home alone for at least three days by their mother, police reported.

Antioch police charged Dakota Short, 35, of 30 Hennings Court in Antioch, with two counts of child abandonment, which is a class 4 felony. Short was being held in Lake County Jail in Waukegan on $45,000 bond.

Both the Antioch Police Department and the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services are still investigating the incident.

Responding to an anonymous tip, Antioch police located the children home alone May 20.

"We got an anonymous call that two children were left unattended and unsupervised. We found out they were left unattended for three days," said Deputy Chief Charles Watkins.

When police found the children, police said there was no food in the house, the water was left running, and an iron was plugged in and laying on the carpet.

"The house was a disaster area," Watkins said.

Antioch Police immediately took custody of the children until they were given to DCFS.

Antioch police eventually tracked down Short. She did not issue a statement to police, although the children told police that Short left them early May 17, telling them she would return later that day.

Under Illinois statutes, a person could be charged with child abandonment after leaving a child under 11 years old for more than a 24-hour period without the supervision of someone who is not at least 14 years old.

Watkins said it was both an unfortunate situation that the children were left home alone for three days and fortunate circumstance that they were not harmed.

"The children were hungry. They had to be cared for," Watkins said. "It's pretty tough cooking your own dinner at 9 or 10 years old—and dangerous. . . They were lucky disaster did not happen."

Ex officer charged for hitting new boyfriend

SPENCER SCHEIN

Staff Reporter

Rena Jensen, a former police officer in Island Lake, is facing three years in a Wisconsin prison after state authorities filed a formal complaint against her for allegedly hitting her boyfriend, authorities said.

Jensen was charged with disorderly conduct and battery as a repeat offender, and is facing an initial court hearing of June 4 in Kenosha, said Dick Ginkowski, Kenosha County assistant district attorney.

Jensen, 33, of Round Lake, was arrested May 10 in Kenosha County and accused of misdemeanor battery and disorderly conduct after hitting her new boyfriend while both were visiting at another residence, reports said.

The new charges come two years after Jensen was convicted of reckless conduct and obstruction of justice after her boyfriend, former Wauconda firefighter Jim Johnson, was shot in the head during an argument in a trailer they both shared near Wauconda.

Jensen served three months in jail and two months in prison in 1994 after being acquitted of attempted murder and convicted of the lesser charges.

If convicted in Wisconsin, Jensen could face a maximum fine of $10,000 and three years for battery and $1,000 and three years for disorderly conduct and convicted with the lesser charges of reckless conduct.

Jensen was released from custody after $1,150 bond was posted, Ginkowski said.

Where would we be without volunteers?

With the school year winding down and Awards Night hosted by several local schools, it only seems appropriate to honor those folks who regularly help out at the school and receive no certificate or plaque. A school consists of students, teachers and various staff members, but they all run a little smoother because of the volumes of volunteers out there who assist these people and make their jobs just a bit more organized.

Most volunteers don't perform their duties with an eye on some big reward at the end of the year. Most just see a need, fulfill that need, and wait until another opportunity comes their way to give of themselves. They aren't the kind that need constant pats on the back or praise or bundles of recognition. They have a small amount of free time on their hands and they are willing to give unselfishly of that spare time.

The teachers always have a kind word for these folks, the school principles value their opinions, the school kids greet them with warm hugs. No task is too menial for a volunteer, whether it be checking out books in the library, doing a lunch count in the classroom or making copies of papers. They just go about their task and lighten the load of the teachers.

I'm sure if Hallmark doesn't already have a "Volunteer Appreciation Day" one will be in the works soon—as it should be. Volunteers have an abundance of reasons for wanting to be helping out in school. Some see a definite need, some like being with the kids (yes there really are folks out there who like being with children), and some are just plain nosy and want to know what is going on in the schools—sometimes they get a really big dose of reality that they weren't expecting.

So for all of you who gave up even an ounce of your precious time to make things run a little smoother for the teachers at your school and perhaps put a smile on some of those attentive faces, stand up and take a bow—no commodity on Wall Street is more deserving of your efforts.

Line Dance Fever

Well it looks like this Line Dancing Craze has been well received by the folks of Antioch according to the local expert, who notifies me quite regularly with updates on the subject. The kickin' and stompin' has been reaching frenzied peaks at Antioch's new Line Dance Emporium at the Waterfall Restaurant.

That's right folks, every Thursday night from 7:30 until 10:30 you can don your tasseled shirts, pointy boots and tightest jeans to show off your dancing expertise of lack of, whichever suits your fancy. Your host, DJ and dance leader for the evening will be none other than the quickly becoming famous Louise Butterbaugh.

My source also informs me that if they continue to have a good crowd, the new owners will replace and enlarge the existing dance floor. So now that the Thursday night season finale for ER is over and George Clooney is off playing Batman and there is nothing on but reruns, why not put on your fancy dancin' clothes and head over to the Waterfall Restaurant for an evening that will prove very entertaining in more ways than one.

Campbell Soup Labels

It's been heard around town that some of the local schools are no longer collecting the Campbell Soup labels to redeem for educational material. The folks over at St. Peter's just want everyone to know that they are still indeed collecting and saving the labels, so if you find yourself with some labels and no place to go with them, they will gladly take them off your hands.

There are two ways of getting them into the right hands, either drop them off at the school itself or there is a big Campbell Soup container inside the doors of the church that you can deposit them in. The school and church will continue to collect the labels all summer and would greatly appreciate any labels you may have to offer. Just a reminder: they need the front label of the can not the UPC symbol.

They also save the front label from: Franco American Pasta and Gravy products, Early California Olives, Vlasic products, V8 Vegetable Juice, Open Pit Barbecue Sauce, Prego Spaghetti Sauce and Swanson Broth and Poultry products. They will also be collecting the UPC Symbols from: Swanson Frozen Food, Marie's Dressings, Dips and Glazes, Mrs. Paul's Frozen Seafood and Speciality Vegetables, and Pepperidge Farm products.

She's All Grown Up

Recently young Danielle Boarini got fed up with all the hustle and bustle at her house so she took a big piece of plain paper, wrote a huge letter "C" on it, and stuck it on her bedroom door. She then proceeded to inform all the family members that she wanted her own private "C" (her version of privacy). In other words mom and dad—don't mess with me, I am 5 years old, know how to write and I'm entitled to my own space.

Wait until she is 16 and wants to borrow the car, Ms. Independent might have to come down a notch or two—you can bet mom and dad will be there to remind her of her "private C" days. And so goes another "Jingle From Pringle" don't forget to call 395-6364.

LIVING WITH DENTURES

Although well made dentures are virtually indistinguishable from natural teeth, they really don't function or feel exactly the same. Dentures are hard, rigid objects placed upon soft, flexible tissues. When first placed, the teeth supporting a partial denture may be sore and the gums irritated. Several visits may be required before the dentist is fully satisfied with the fit. Warm salt water mouth washes seem to be the most effective in reducing soreness.

Do not use topical anesthetics or other medications unless they are prescribed by your dentist. If discomfort persists, remove the denture and make an appointment with your dentist. An hour before the visit, replace the denture so your dentist can see any points of irritation. He has available special pressure indicators to pinpoint "high spots". When first inserted, your mouth may react to a denture as it would to any foreign body. It may flood with extra saliva and cause the denture to "float". Patience and practice is usually the answer.

Antioch Rotary boasts 10 new Paul Harris Fellows

Antioch Rotary Club added 10 new members to its growing list of Paul Harris Fellows.

A Rotarian is recognized as a Paul Harris Fellow after contributing at least $1,000 or more to the Rotary Foundation.

The international foundation helps fund Rotary's generous scholarship program, various worthy causes, and it especially helps subsidize medical efforts to eliminate the deadly disease polio from the planet. Rotary International set a personal goal of 2005 to eliminate polio from existence.

New Antioch Rotarians named as Paul Harris Fellows include: Philip Dahl, Robert Siegmeler (memorial), Michael Osmond, Jeff Mulder, and Friedel Kuehn.

In addition, Vern Thelen, charter member of the Antioch Rotary Club, encouraged his daughters to become fellows.

The Thelen daughters named fellows include Margaret Miles, Barbara Miller, Ann Berry, Susan Schumacher, and Mary Beth Varak.

In previous years, Thelen encouraged his wife "Bunny" and sons Steve, Tom, Jack and Peter to become Paul Harris Fellows.

Recyclable Kids hosts drive to assist leukemia girl

A local MCI representative has added a new meaning to the "Friends and Family" promotion.

Stacey Mathes, a long-distance representative for MCI, will donate $20 to the Rachael Lugo Friendship Trust for every person who signs up for the "Friends and Family" promotion.

Lugo is a 6-year-old Antioch girl who was diagnosed with leukemia last winter. The trust was established in her name at the First National Bank of Antioch to help cover medical costs and other related costs. Lugo has been enduring chemotherapy treatments at Children's Hospital in Milwaukee.

"Recyclable Kids," a children's resale store in Antioch, will host a registration session May 31 and June 1 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Mathes, who normally operates out of a home office in Lake Villa, said she hopes to get 500 people to register for the MCI "Friends and Family" program.

The MCI program includes five free days of long distance each year, $15 off the fourth bill, and a personal 800 number. There will be no calling circles or switch over fees.

After the registration at Recyclable Kids this weekend, Mathes will continue the MCI drive until June 15. For more information, call 265-0454.—by KEVIN HANRAHAN

Automania nets 71 cars during sale

Good weather actually may have proved to be a little detrimental to this year's Automania car sale extravaganza.

Although Automania happened to fall on one of the rare nice weekends this spring, 71 cars were sold during the three-day sale. Seventy cars were sold during last year's version.

Automania happened to fall on the weekend when the sun shined brightly and the temperatures soared into the 90s. Cold and rainy weather was the norm before the event and following the event.

"It was the first nice weekend we had all year. People were out mowing their grass and doing yard work," explained Claude LeMere, director of community development.

Just prior to the event, LeMere said he brought out heaters for the tents. In one-day span, the temperature rose from 38 degrees to 89 degrees.

"That is not the best situation for a tent sale," LeMere said.

Despite the weather, he did report that the Antioch's auto dealers were pleased with the outcome.

"Seventy one cars is excellent. We're very happy," LeMere said. The car sales not only means extra profits for the auto dealers, but more sales tax revenues to add to village coffers.

Participating dealers included Antioch Dodge, Lyons & Ryan Ford/Lincoln/Mercury, Don Pittman Pontiac, Raymond Chevrolet/Olds/Geo, Pedersen GMC, and Lake County Chrysler West in Lake Villa.

The dealers also donated six $500 scholarships to graduating seniors of Antioch Community High School through the "You Make a Difference" program.

Seniors gaining scholarships include Jenna Eckert, Megan Durney, John Booth, Lauren Burke, Alyson Gantar, and Elizabeth Wegner.—by KEVIN HANRAHAN

To the rescue — Technology campus students learn

ELIZABETH EAKEN
Staff Reporter

When a car fell off the lift at the Lake County Technology Campus injuring several people, students from the school's emergency medical training program knew what to do.

The students, members of the Allied Health Tech First Responders program actually staged the incident with the help of the auto shop class and the Grayslake and Round Lake Rescue Squads.

The class prepares the junior and senior students from 18 high schools in Lake County for EMT training according to instructor Ruth Schiller. She said she wanted the students to learn real life skills and thought this would be a realistic application.

According to Schiller the program has really blossomed. Last year there were only 12 students and this year there are 37. Students may receive college credit for their work in the class.

"After graduation if they get a 'B' or better in my course they get three credits at McHenry (community college)," she explained.

The accident scene was coordinated by student Stephanie Desecki from Grant High School. She organized the program and delegated the responsibilities to the emergency personnel at the scene.

"I walk around and make sure everyone is doing everything right and they don't make a disaster of a disaster," she said.

"I joined the class because it's very interesting and want the learning for my college background.

I want to be a paramedic because I like to help people and the fast-paced thinking," related Desecki.

The class practiced for around three weeks. After the accident occurred the students were sent to work by Desecki and others walked around noting the procedures on evaluation sheets. The drill was also videotaped for critiquing. The students were evaluated by Grayslake Fire Chief Don Mobley at the end of their drill.

Schiller said she thought the drill went very well and allowed a glimpse into the daily work of a paramedic.

"Many of my students hadn't seen the inside of an ambulance ever," she said.

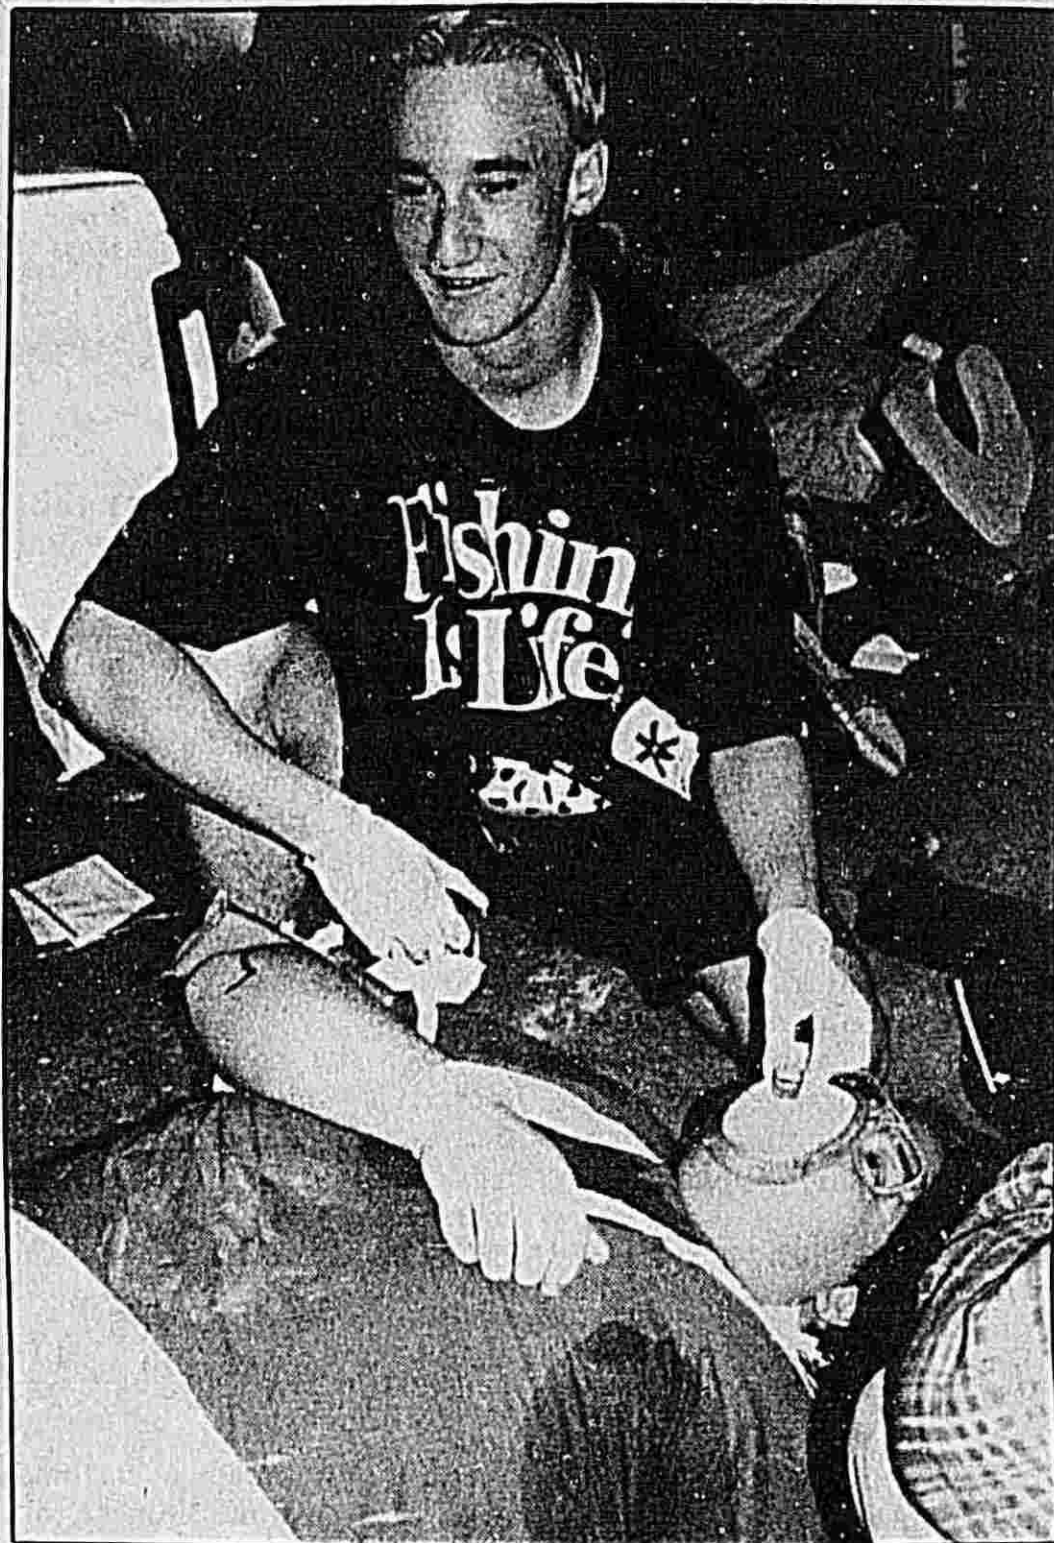

In addition to the training at the technology campus, students may get exposure to real life paramedic work through the Grayslake Fire Department, according to Mobley.

"We have an internship program. This year we have one student. As they go through the program they ride along with us to get the experience, this is a natural progression. It allows us to get people interested in the program at an early age," said Mobley.

This year's intern at Grayslake is Jenny Johnson of Grant High School. The interns are chosen through the technology campus, according to Mobley.

He said the Grayslake department has 42 employees of which 30 are paramedics with seven new employees going through training. EMTs require approximately 116 hours of college training and paramedics around 390, he said.

"For us 75 percent of our calls are emergency medical related," he said. "Every person in the department has to be certified as a firefighter and an EMT."

MHS puts the hurt on Grayslake

Mundelein 13, Grayslake 0

It was over in five innings, and nobody left wondering why Mundelein was the top seed in the Waukegan Regional.

The Grayslake Rams were victimized by the Mustangs, falling 13-0. Katie Prezell couldn't have been better on the mound, allowing just one hit, registering 10 strikeouts, and not allowing any free passes. Despite a strong offensive effort from the whole team, MHS's Toni Campbell's grand slam stood out. Prezell helped her own cause with a pair of hits and two runs scored, while teammate Jill Wollberg was perfect at the plate, collecting three hits in as many at-bats and driving in runs.

Grant 7, Woodstock 5

The last seed plucked the hope of an easy regional from the first seed as the underdog Grant Bulldogs upended Woodstock in the second round of the post-season tournament.

The Bulldogs team proved what kind of determination it had in the preliminary round game with a 10-0 win over McHenry. The top-seeded team from Woodstock looked like a big obstacle before Saturday, but afterwards was another victim in a 7-5 Grant win.

Megan Thomas gained both wins for the Fox Lake school, which entered regional play with just five wins. The key moments Saturday came in the second inning as six runs came across the plate for a 6-2 Grant lead. Stacie Morley had a single, as did Thomas. Shelly Dietz accounted for two RBIs. Suzie Sutton, reaching on a fielder's choice and hit by a pitch, figured in the rally. Woodstock gained five hits but could not get the key one.

Libertyville 6, Carmel 0

Libertyville pitching ace Katie Kapfer was overpowering as the Wildcats blanked the Carmel Corsairs 6-0 in the first round of the Waukegan regional. Kapfer struck out five and allowed only four hits. Libertyville is now 20-7-1.

Timely offense came from Wildcats Mary Milbury (two hits, one double, two RBIs) and Bri Crane, who slammed a solo homer.

Sequoits are still waiting for the sun

Mother Nature must not be a baseball fan.

After a warm few days preceding the Barrington baseball sectional, early spring has returned to the Northwest Suburbs. As of press time, the Antioch/Round Lake baseball game had been postponed, as was the Warren/Waukegan contest. Elsewhere in sectional action:

Grant 10, Grayslake 0

Grant High earned a shot at the Waukegan regional tournament's top seed as the Bulldogs ousted Grayslake in round one. The Bulldogs downed Grayslake 10-0 as Shaun Eaton fired a two-hitter.

"He had good location, and he is spotting his fastball and curveball well," Grant Coach Lee said.

Eaton fanned five Rams.

A six-run second inning put the game away. Dave Paddock had a two-run double for a 3-0 lead. Eaton helped his own cause with a 2-of-3 day with an RBI; John Dunlavy was 2-of-3 with a single, double and two RBIs.

Grant had nine hits and took advantage of five Grayslake errors.

"We played one of our finer games. We did not strikeout or make any errors. We were focused - we played this way for two or three times out of the 25 games," Radditz said.

Grant (12-13) battled Zion-Benton in the second round on Tuesday.

The Bulldogs lost a 7-4 clash to Johnsburg as the Skyhawks won the Northwest Suburban Conference title.

Grant played Zion tough in a 3-1 loss in non-league play.

Johnsburg 10, Grayslake 0

Thus annoyed, the Johnsburg pitcher retired the next three batters, and gained his 10th strikeout in five innings as Johnsburg pounded on the Rams 10-0.

Johnsburg (16-8, 11-3) completed gaining its share of the first Northwest Suburban Conference title ever with an 11-1 win in game two. The team then completed a 7-4 win over Grant to claim the title. The wins set a new team record for victories.

"When someone gets on base, I buckle down and say they are not going any farther," Schweitzer said.

The senior set a JHS record when he gained his eleventh win in 12 decisions. Quite a change from last year, all JHS observers agreed.

"It was amazing. He was ten times better than last year," said JHS catcher Mike Cohn.

"What he has improved more than anything is the bulldog in him. He has had the See SEQUOITS page A12

Grayslake's Gantt leads area state track qualifiers

DAN CHAMNESS

Correspondent

Jason Gantt is one of the elite eight. No, the Grayslake senior is not part of a basketball team trying to reach the pinnacle of success. He is, however, one of the runners who placed in this year's IHSAA 1,600 meter Class AA state championship.

Gantt ran the four laps around the Eastern Illinois University oval in a blazing 4:21.83, taking eighth place.

"I was really nervous today," said Gantt. "I was very pleased, but I wanted to go under 4:20. But I got the state medal, and that's the important thing."

As the eight 1,600 meter runners stood on the podium later to receive their medals, a person could hardly miss the similarities between the runners. For the first time in years, the eight all-stars were also all seniors. Another glaring similarity: all but one were from the suburban Chicago area.

"I wish I would have seen some of these runners earlier," said Gantt. We are a small Class A school, and besides Palatine's Jon Chermack and Waukegan's Calvin Garth, I don't see much distance competition."

Gantt led for the first 800 meters of the race, but was passed by a pack of runners shortly after the halfway mark.

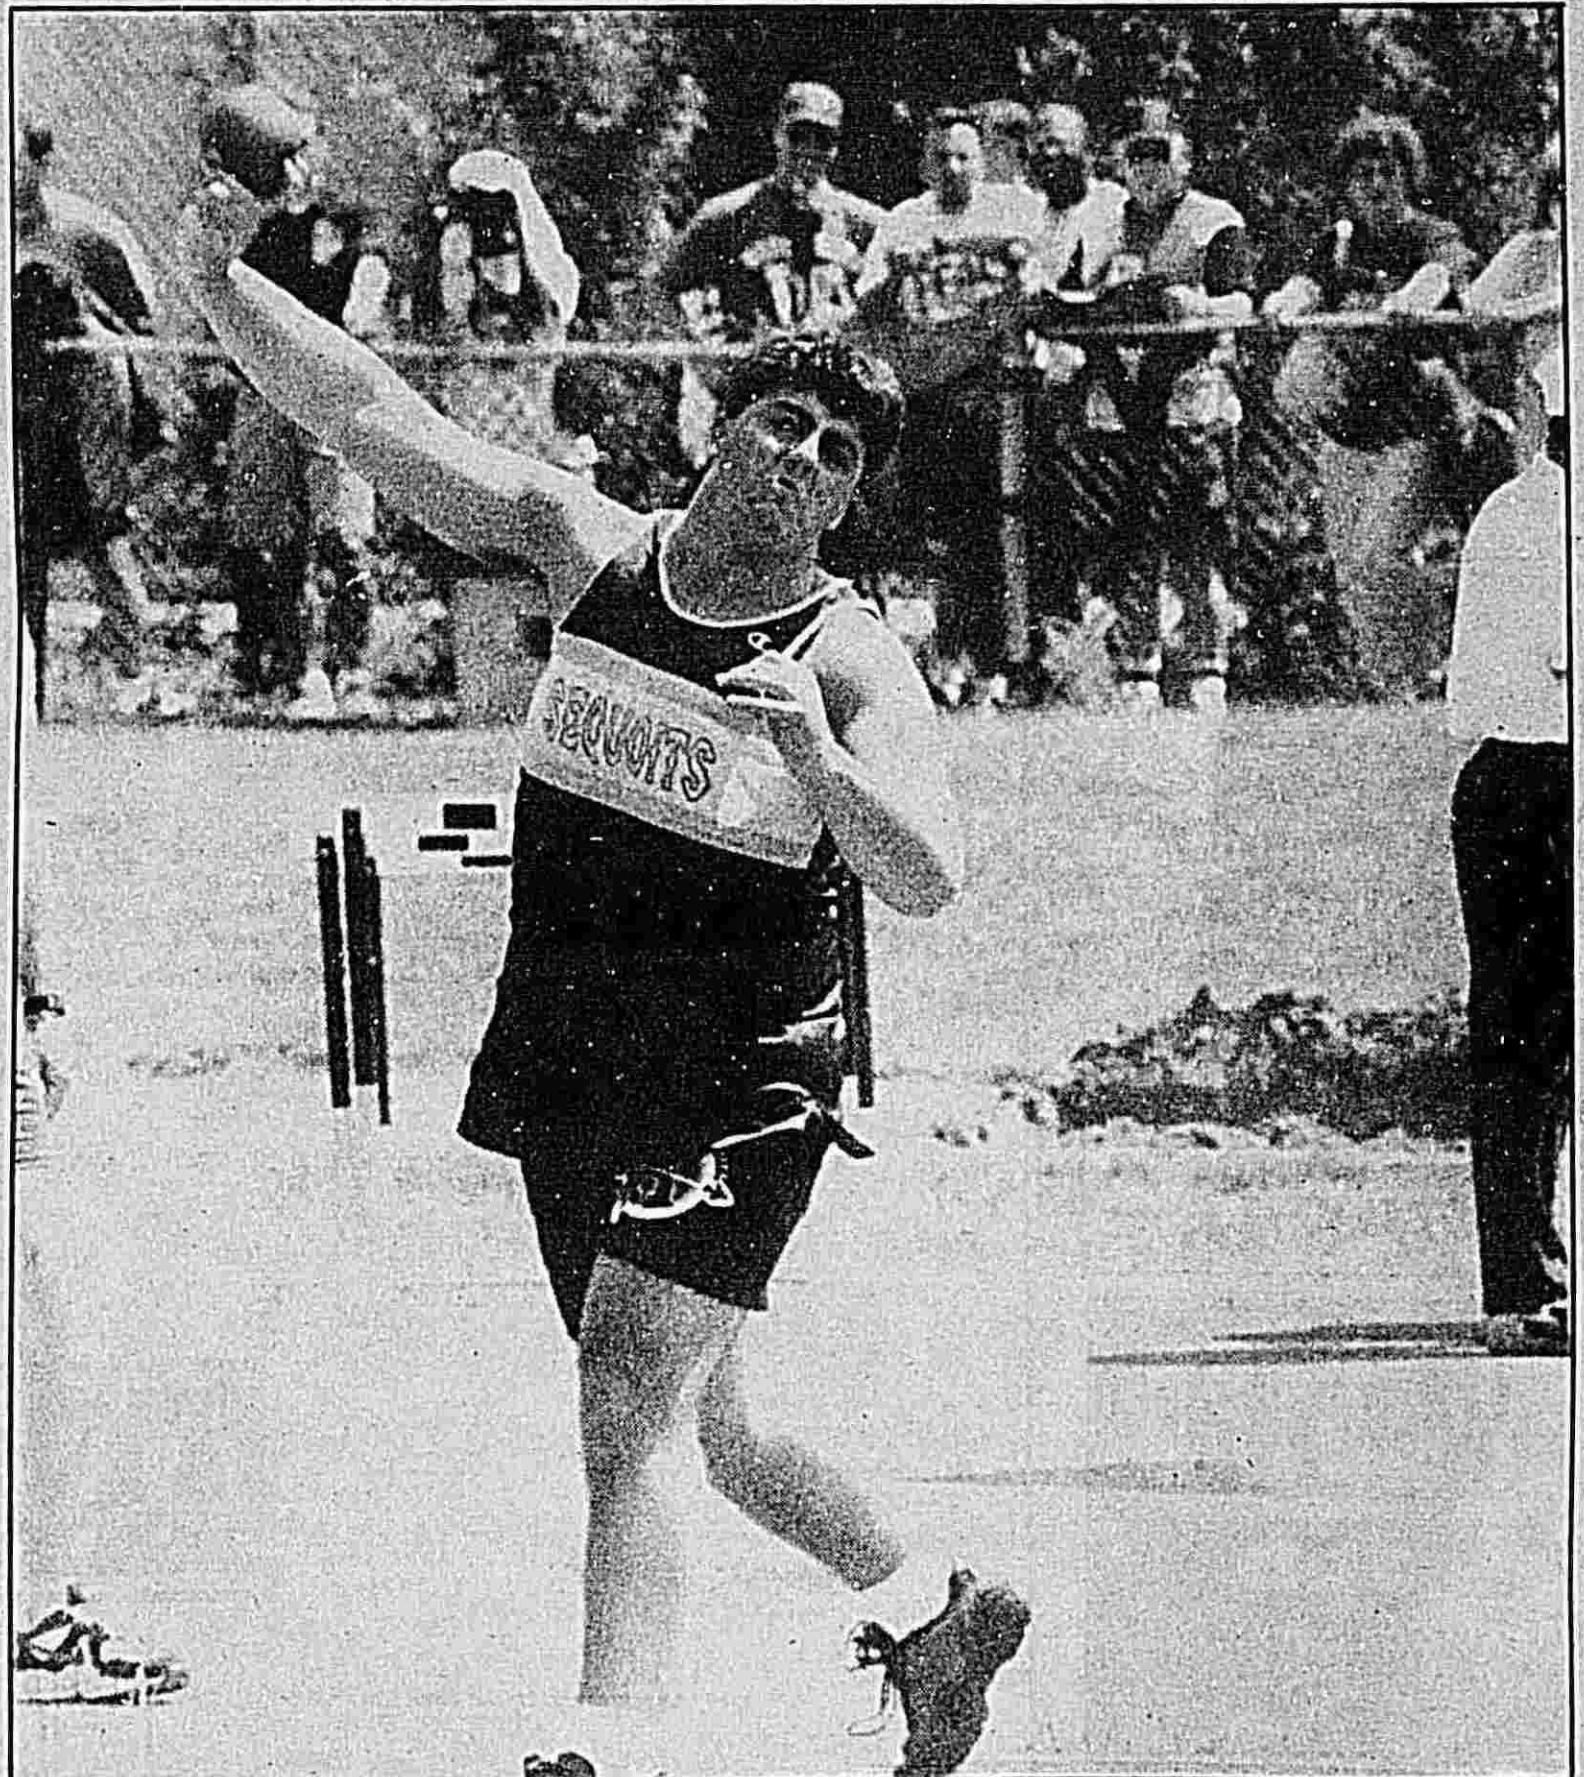

"When they passed me, I just did not have enough to go with them," said Gantt. "I knew going into the race it would be a tightly packed race."

Gantt's career at Grayslake emulates the 1,600 meter run in a few ways. Just like the 1,600, Gantt's career had some struggle built in. Both his sophomore and junior years were interrupted by hernia surgery, putting his running on hold.

Finally, he was able to finish a cross country season as a senior, placing 59th in the state.

He qualified for the 1,600 finals as a junior, but did not make the finals. He placed second in sectional competition twice, losing to Chermack this year and Garth as a junior. He ran a 4:24.9 in 1995, a 4:21.3 this year. In Friday's preliminary heat he ran a 4:22.05 to make the finals.

"With all the health problems Antioch's John Migalla, one of three ACHS state qualifiers, puts his shoulder into his shot put effort during Friday's preliminary round of the IHSAA track and field championships. that Jason has had, he had an excuse to quit any time," said Grayslake Coach Joel Peebles. "But he was determined and he battled through his health problems. He just has a great attitude."

Gantt is the first runner from Grayslake to place in a state track meet since 1978, the year Peebles started coaching the Rams. Gantt has earned four varsity track letters, three in cross country, and has helped the Rams to two straight Northwest Suburban Conference track titles in two years.

"I will miss that entire group of kids," said Peebles. "They had great attitudes and gave their all to the sport."

In addition to qualifying for the 1,600, Gantt was also part of the state-qualifying 3,200 meter relay team that made it to state. Jake Parsons, Steve Rezmer and Chris Kingma joined Gantt in running an 8:14.54 preliminary heat.

Other qualifiers from Grayslake included pole vaulter

Pat Eldridge and Parsons in the 400 meter dash. Eldridge did not clear the opening height, and Parsons was disqualified in the 400.

Antioch's three qualifiers failed to make the finals. Senior Kevin Fasana ended his prep career with a :15.6 running of the 110 meter high hurdles. Senior John Migalla and sophomore David Gooch threw the discus, Migalla coming up with a 144-7 effort, Gooch ending the campaign with See TRACK page A12 mechanics," JHS Coach Ed Sennett said.

"My fastball was working well. they were swinging at outside pitches," Schweitzer said.

He attributes much of his turnaround to the influence of Ralph Bufano of Waukegan, who changed his pitching mechanics.

Cohn was a big factor in the Skyhawks' 21-hit day, gaining four hits himself.

Bill De Voy gave the Skyhawks a start in the first inning of the first game as he clubbed a home run for a 1-0 lead.

a 142'3" toss.

Mike Ray was the only individual state qualifier for Warren, taking 33rd in the 3,200 meter run. Ray ran a 10:11.47. The Warren 1,600 meter relay team of Steve Brayden, Will Ancahas, Romell Overton and Darnell Smith ran a 3:27.81 in Friday's preliminaries.

Lake Zurich's Jason Woods ran a :52.11 in the 400 meter dash on Friday. He was the school's only state qualifier.

Libertyville's sole qualifier, Dave Nawocki, ran a :22.93 in Friday's preliminary heat, qualifying him for the semifinals. He ran a :22.88 in the semis, but did not advance.

Ruben Rivera ended his career at Carmel after qualifying in the long jump and the 200 meter dash. He jumped 19'6.25" in the long jump preliminary, and ran a :22.70 in the 200 prelim. Carmel's 1,600 meter relay team of Andy Klein, Tim Roder, Bill Fusz and Andres Ceritos ran a 3:36.02 preliminary on Friday.

Sophomore Ryan Barry represented Mundelein at state, qualifying in both the 110 meter high hurdles and the 300 meter intermediate hurdles. Barry ran a :16.38 in the 110 and a :41.08 in the 300, but did not advance.

In the second, Jeremy Ackerman, Ryan Loser, and Chris Albright singled and a Grayslake error helped JHS push three runs across.

Joel Woelter and Ackerman had RBI hits in the third for a 6-0 lead.

Grayslake had its first hit in the fourth inning as Tom Mainord singled and moved as far as third base. But as more the case than not, Schweitzer gained the next two strikeouts.

Loser delivered a two-run single in the fourth and ended the game with an RBI triple for a 10-0 win due to the slaughter rule.

Grayslake started the second game this summer-like Saturday with a 1-0 lead. Jeff Cameron, Josh Hansen and Matt Vasey all singled.

The next 11 runs were all by the home team.

Highlights included a home run by Cohn to tie the game; an RBI double by Loser; RBI singles by Chris Albright and Pat Rice and Wolter, whose hit gave the home team the necessary 10-run advantage.

The Rams (6-7 NWSC) shut out Carmel as Witt went the distance and allowed only four hits.

"He did a nice job and we did a good job executing with bunts," Rams Coach Troy Harper said.

Cameron had an RBI single in the first and another run scored on an errant pickoff try by Carmel. Cameron's (2-of-3) single in the second gave the Rams three runs.

Vasey gained the win in an 11-3 win over Wauconda. He allowed just two hits. An eight-run sixth inning was the difference for the Rams.

Grayslake was then eliminated 10-0 in the first round of the Waukegan regional by Grant.

CHS's nine's aggressive play nets post-season victim

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

In some locales, it is known as Billy Ball, named for the late manager Billy Martin.

In others, it is known as Winning Ugly, the phrase coined by Doug Radar in 1983.

In Lake County, the style of manufacturing runs, rattling the opposing defense, is known as Gandolfi Ball. Wauconda was the latest victim of such a style, as Carmel won the first-round regional clash with a 7-4 win.

Mike Burens did the honors this time. It was his eighth inning suicide squeeze and a knock away of the ball from Wauconda first baseman which allowed Mike McMahon and Steve Gobelowski to score. The final run scored as Kevin Russell, who reached on a fielder's choice, scored on a delayed steal.

The win went to Josh Ward, who improved to 8-2 with a five strikeout, three inning relief effort.

"We're an aggressive, running team. The other teams know it is coming, but they do not know how to stop it," Carmel Coach Chuck Gandolfi said.

"It was a suicide squeeze. I am very confident with that we can get the ball in play and make the defense make the play," Burens, of Gurnee, said.

Ward likes the team's pitching staff, an all important factor in post-season play as the Crystal Lake Central regional continued. "We are a real good amount of depth. It helps," Ward said.

The loss ended the season for Wauconda, which had fought back from a 4-1 deficit.

WHS losing pitcher Mike Seitz had a rubber arm with 150 plus pitches.

"Their pitcher threw a good game and Ames (Eric) had a little mental letdown with the 4-1 lead," Gandolfi said.

"Carmel executed things well and we did not," Wauconda Coach Jim Van Fleet said.

Van Fleet could be proud of the Bulldogs' (15-13) three-run comeback in the sixth inning. Seitz delivered the key blow, a 2-run double for a 4-3 deficit. Shawn Rudolph drew the third walk of the inning.

One out later, Erick Grot's RBI single knotted the contest. Rick Bacon reached on an infield hit, which was smothered by Ward, saving a run.

CHS had gained the lead in the fourth inning as Mark Staehle and Ames walked and scored and Gobelowski drove both home with a single.

Lindenhurst Turbos take fourthin tournament

The Lindenhurst Turbos (Boys U-13) finished the Park Ridge tournament in fourth place out of eight teams.

They lost to the Maumee (Ohio) Express 2-1, beat the Barrington Blitz 2-1, and battled the Park Ridge Orange to a 0-0 tie. A 2-0 loss to the Trevian White landed the Turbos in fourth place. Scoring goals for the Turbos were Jeff Prorok, Matt

Peterson, and Chris Cole (PK). Assisting were Jason Adams and Prorok. The defense, midfield, and goalkeeping held up well during the tournament, but the Turbos lacked scoring punch.

Breakaway Soccer Club to hold tryouts June 8

Breakaway Soccer Club will hold tryouts for its Girls U-14 Travel Team (birth dates between Aug. 1, 1982 to July 31, 1984) on Saturday, June 8, at 10 a.m. This tryout, for the IWSL's fall '96/spring '97 season, will be held at Polley Fields at the corner of Deep Lake and Grass Lake Roads in Antioch.

Antioch, Warren softball squads patient for tourney

Before the rains, the Antioch High softball squad was poised for a late-season charge.

Two wins over Warren High, the second a 6-4 verdict, and a split with Zion-Benton in 3-1 contests had the Sequoits finish at .500, 7-7, in the league.

Six days of rain pushed the Waukegan regional final to the brink of non-existence, the final day May 31 was scheduled for the championship. The winner gets to play the next day at the June 1 Barrington sectional.

Warren High, Antioch's opponent, had to wait as well. The game was scheduled for Gurnee, moved to Antioch on Saturday (rain), moved to Waukegan Monday (rain), Antioch on Tuesday (rain) and finally to Waukegan on Wednesday. Other teams did not fare much better, although the Woodstock regional did get its first round clashes in before Wednesday.

The Sequoits came into the tournament off a 13-win season, in large part due to the clutch hitting of Courtney Conrad. Conrad's first inning double sent the Sequoits to victory against Zion. Jessica Schmidt and Stephanie Hansen both reached on a walk and error, and both scored as Conrad's 2-run single gave the Sequoits a 3-0 lead against Warren.

Meanwhile, Jamie Silarski continues to do the job on the mound. The junior has accepted the role as the team's ace this year and has all 21 decisions.

"Jamie has been the key and the rest of the seniors have played their roles well," Smithhisler said. Elsewhere, Libertyville, Stevenson and Mundelein all cruised to first-round wins.

Katie Kapfer recorded her 50th win as Libertyville shutout Carmel 6-0. Bri Crane blasted a solo home run and Mary Milbury had a pair of hits for the 20-7-1 Wildcats. Alas, the second round clash was postponed.

Mundelein (32-2) dismissed Grayslake (3-23) 13-0. Katie Prezell gained the win. Toni Campbell sparked the offense with a grand slam.

Mundelein is the top seed and because of the win was in a position of qualifying for the Barrington sectional if any late-week unforeseen rains further complicated matters.

Stevenson, at Deerfield's regional, beat Lake Forest 7-0 behind the shutout pitching of Amy Consdorf.

Churchill: Lake County big winner in Illinois budget

RHONDA HETRICK BURKE

Editor in Chief

The Cubs won the World Series the last year the Illinois State legislature finished its spring session this early.

Perhaps, it is a sign of a winning streak to come for the Cubs, but even if the Cubs don't come out winners, Lake County will be because of legislation passed in the spring session.

Lake County will score home-runs in several games including:

- Education funding which will increase for each school based on average daily attendance through the passage of the Quality First Initiative for Schools.

- The College of Lake County received $5.6 million for the completion of its multi-use instructional facility.

- Lake County will receive $600,000 to staff the juvenile detention center.

House Majority Leader Robert W. Churchill (R-Lake Villa) says the most important facet of the legislation passed is the Quality First Initiative for Schools.

"This will be the first time since I have been a member of the legislature that schools in our area will receive more money from the state than they did in the previous year," Churchill said. For many years, because of increasing real estate assessments, the Lake County schools' portion of the state budget decreased. This year's shift in the method of funding education gives money to schools on a per student basis.

"Increasing enrollment in the suburbs traditionally worked against suburban schools, but the new plan will favor those schools with growing enrollment," Churchill said. The additional money will be added to monthly payments the districts receive from the state starting with the fiscal year, July 1.

In addition to increasing funding for schools, the Quality First Initiative for Schools also focuses attention on the output of schools.

"We have always talked about funding of schools; with this plan, we are re-focusing our attention to the output of schools and that is very important," Churchill said. Under the plan, students will be tested and required to meet certain academic standards in order to receive a high school diploma.

"This will ensure that students are getting what they need out of school," said Churchill. "It also tells business owners that when they hire an individual with a high school diploma, they can be assured they have the expected academic background."

The $5.4 million allocation to the College of Lake County will allow the school to complete the construction of the multi-use facility.

"This is a real plum," Churchill said. "This enables the college to complete the project which had been funded by the state initially." Due to the increase in construction cost the facility was not able to be completed with the previous amount.

The legislature will go back into session following the November general election.

Mother Nature throws wrench into summer

Chain should reopen by week's end

RHONDA HETRICK BURKE

Editor in Chief

Memorial Day may be the traditional start of the summer, but for many Lake County residents and business owners, the three-day weekend was spent cleaning-up flooded areas and wishing for sunshine—which is likely to appear a week late.

Following nearly two-weeks of sunless skies, Lake County was declared a state disaster area due to flooding along the Des Plaines River and in low-lying areas of the county.

The Chain O'Lakes remained in a no-wake status and the Fox River was closed for boating throughout the Memorial Weekend, turning the usually active Chain boating community into a passive but focused group who concentrated on cleaning up their boats and dreaming of clear skies and sunshine.

Memorial Day parades were canceled due to rain in Libertyville and Lake Zurich, while other towns scaled back on activities.

For prep sports fans, the weather has been challenging the play-offs, forcing officials to make decisions on shortening the process due to the number of games which have been canceled.

"Damage assessment is being done by municipalities now," said Lt. Dempsey Leith, of the Lake County Emergency Disaster Services. "The Des Plaines River has receded quite a bit and the worst of it is definitely over."

Leith says preliminary damage assessments suggest that while there was considerable flooding throughout the area, there was not a great deal of damage to property.

Once the Lake County office received all the damage estimate reports from the municipalities, they will forward them to the governor's office.

"If the governor feels there is enough damage to warrant federal assistant funding, he will request it from the President," Leith said. Once federal funding is available, residents may qualify for programs See MOTHER NATURE page B3

Carmel prepares to hang out Blue Ribbon for excellence

When Fr. William Harry lived in Georgetown one summer, an acquaintance who knew of his fondness for history asked if he was planning to tour the White House.

"I told him I would never go as a tourist," said Harry. "Now here I am finally going as an invited guest."

The president of Carmel High School was scheduled to leave Monday for ceremonies honoring Blue Ribbon schools named by the U.S. Department of Education. A traditional event is a Rose Garden reception, scheduled for May 29, with the awards luncheon the following day.

"We're assuming we won on parent involvement. That's been our major emphasis," he explained. "I think it's one of the things that sets us apart and I'm glad it's been recognized."

Accompanying Harry at the ceremonies will be Carmel teacher Tina Cosentino and graduating senior Jeffrey Schlessler. They will stay at the Carmelite residence. Faculty members who wished to go all put their names in a hat; the name of the lucky winner was drawn by a student, Harry said. Schlessler was chosen by a consensus of school administrators.

"This is not my award," he hastened to explain. "It's a great compliment to the parents and the students."

Harry planned to visit with several Carmel alumni who live in the area and was trying to get in touch with Sen. Rick Santorum (Pa.), a 1976 Carmel graduate. He also hoped the Carmel representatives could meet with Residents rush to aid child

ROUND LAKE BEACH—What could have been a great tragedy was averted by passers by after they lifted up a car to rescue a boy wedged under the vehicle. The incident occurred on May 26, 2:15 p.m. when a southbound truck driven by Frank Amelio, 20, no address given, struck a Chevrolet Caprice driven by Domenic Dri, 69, of Round Lake Beach, while Dri was trying to make a left hand turn from Cedar Lake Road to Clarendon Drive.

According to police reports, the impact sent the car into a crowd waiting for the Memorial Day Parade where it struck Courtney Elias, 5, Jennifer Elias, 10, Christopher Elias, 6 and Ellicia Elias, 6, all of Round Lake Beach. Christopher was pinned under the car until passers by lifted the vehicle and getting him out. Jennifer Elias was treated and released, Christopher Elias had some third degree burns to his back, and Courtney was sent from Condell Medical Center to Lutheran General where she is listed in good condition. Amelio was ticketed for driving too fast for conditions and Dri was ticketed for making an improper turn.—by ALEC JUNG

Schools appeal to Edgar

LINCOLNSHIRE—Taxpayers living in Lincolnshire-Prairie View School Dist. 103 and Stevenson High School Dist. 125 are being urged to act quickly before potentially losing millions in tax money. Governor Jim Edgar could sign into law special legislation that would allow Lake Forest School District special rights to annex the tax-rich Conway Farms development, just east of I-94 along Route 60.

Currently, the development includes parts of school districts 103 and 125 as well as Libertyville High School Dist. 128 and Rondout Dist. 72. The Stevenson High School and Lincolnshire elementary districts could lose $1 million annually in tax revenue.

Furthermore, the school districts have won three different court decisions since 1988 to keep Conway Farms within their respective districts. Special legislation by Sen. David Barhausen of Lake Forest and Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis was needed to circumvent the court rulings.

"We have survived the court three times, but they still have the audacity to write special legislation," noted Dist. 103 Superintendent Scott Guziec.—by KEVIN HANRAHAN

Track star sets state records

LAKE ZURICH—With only two years experience of running track, 13-year-old Tabitha Volling set age-group records for the 200 and 400 meter runs at the Illinois Lutheran State Track Meet.

Volling, an eighth grader at St. Matthew Lutheran School in Lake Zurich, set the records in the seven to eight grades during preliminary heats of the meet held at Illinois State University earlier this month. I

In the 200, Volling finished in 27.36 seconds, and in the 400 she clocked in at 1:02.43, both state records for the seventh and eighth grades. Volling placed second in the finals of both races, with her record in the 200 meter race being eclipsed by another runner from Rockford. Over the summer she may join a track club and hopes to continue running at Lake Zurich High School next year.—by SPENCER SCHEIN

Baby couldn't wait

SPRING GROVE—Memorial Day will take on a whole new meaning for a Spring Grove couple who delivered their baby in the back of their truck. In the morning of May 27, Karen Burlini told her husband, Tony to pull over on the side of the road, as she felt herself giving birth. The two were at the intersection of Kelsey Road and Route 59 when the newborn couldn't wait any longer. The couple named their new daughter "Kelsey." After the child was born, Tony wrapped it up in Karen's sweat pants to keep warm. When they finally arrived at Good Shepherd Hospital in Barrington, an emergency room doctor and two nurses crawled inside the back of the Chevrolet Suburban to assist the woman and cut the umbilical cord.—by TINA SWIECH

New animal shelter to open

GRAYSLAKE—Save-A-Pet a humane home for stray, abandoned or unclaimed cats and dogs will celebrate its grand opening June 1-2 in Grayslake with a band, raffle, food and a bake sale. Tours of the facility will be given and demonstrations on dog obedience and other activities will be featured.

The no kill animal shelter, the largest in the Chicagoland area according to director Bonnie Jacobi, is supported by a resale shop in Skokie and fundraising efforts throughout the year.—by ELIZABETH EAKEN

Hum-drum label may discourage riders

BILL SCHROEDER
Publisher

Obviously, marketing whizzards, promotional sloganeers and advertising gurus didn't have any input on selecting a name for the new commuter rail line that will be cutting through Lake County before the end of summer.

If they had, chances are Metra bosses might have come up with a more colorful, appealing name than North Central Service to identify service linking Antioch, Lake Villa, Round Lake Beach, Grayslake, Libertyville, Mundelein, Vernon Hills, Lincolnshire, Buffalo Grove and a few other stops with downtown Chicago.

It's going to be a chore getting out of bed in the morning to catch North Central Service for a ride to work. You'd be awake before the alarm went off to catch the Norline Swift or the Sequoit Express.

Imagine the thrill and anticipation of boarding the Prairie Rocket or the Lakes Bullet for a fast, worry-free ride home after a hard day at the office. Ugh, I missed North Central Service. Bartender, pour me another.

Metra directors didn't have much to choose from, as far as this observer is concerned. Other names submitted included Prairie North Service, Lake Prairie Service, Lake District Service, North Central Line and Lake-Cook Suburban Line. Try rolling those clunkers off your tongue. The last one is enough to guarantee motion sickness.

Chris Knapton, Metro pr chief, said North Central Service was the solid favorite of all the mayors. OK. Bet they didn't pick their own campaign slogans.

Without a doubt, riders soon will come up with a more fitting moniker. Railroad history is replete with colorful railroad nicknames. My all-time favorite is the tag hung on one of the county's ill-fated early-century railroads, the Palatine, Lake Zurich and Wauconda. The P, LZ and W came to be known as "Old Maude" by its riders.

So, there Metra, and all you mayors. Riders will have the final say. After dealing for a time with a name like North Central Service, revenge will be in order. What's it going to be, guys?

Lightening theory tested by Demos

If lightening strikes in the November general election in the form of an outpouring of Democratic straight ballots or a dramatic upsurge of ticket-splitting independents, Lake County Democratic Chairman Terry Link is going to be prepared, or as ready as a minority leader can be in a county as lopsidedly Republican as Lake.

To the Democrats' well-credentialed candidate for recorder of deeds, Mary Ellen Vanderventer, Link has added a career unionist, Jacqueline L. Jones, to challenge incumbent Republican Circuit Clerk Sally Coffelt, a one-time Democrat who has been in office 15 years. Jones is an administrative assistant for the American Federation of Government Employees.

Rather than taking a "fill in the blanks" approach to slating County Board candidates, Link has lined up highly motivated Democrats to run against three entrenched Republican incumbents. Pat Wilder, a former Stevenson High School board member, will run against GOP incumbent County Board Rep. Martha Marks. Maimi McNutt of Zion has agreed to carry Democratic colors against popular Republican Jim LaBelle, a former County Board chairman and currently Forest Preserve Dist. president. Third Lake Trustee Dennis Murphy won a Democratic primary to tackle incumbent Republican County Board Rep. Larry Leafblad in a mid-county district.

Link isn't disguising Democratic good fortune that two Republican nominees for County Board seats will be opposed by independents running as third party candidates. The independents, it can be argued, are making Link's job easier. GOP nominee Al Westerman will be facing Mark Ratfelders, nominated by petition. Republican incumbent Suzi Schmidt will be opposed by Joyce Frayer, running in a third party slot.

For two county offices and a handful of County Board seats, at least, voters will have a choice. The overall voter turnout historically is determined by how electors respond to top-of-the-ballot races like president and U.S. Senator, the lightening rods of politics.

Lake County Democratic strategy for success is based on lightning bolts being strong enough to dictate the outcome of three county races and if voters want fewer Republicans elected to the Lake County Board.

Business climate getting a boost

For obscure reasons, village trustees often either ignore local business problems or turn over economic well being to a commission or the Chamber of Commerce.

Not so in Mundelein where council members have begun organized visits to the village's top 50 employers. Trustee Duane Dudek wants to broaden the visitation plan from a "how's it going?" call to a study of business-concentration patterns that will identify Mundelein's strengths that can be matched with businesses looking for a new home.

Sam Rinella, chairman of the Business Development Commission, sees the in-person visits of elected officials developing beneficial "feedback" and improving communications.

To foster good relations between local government and business, the commission is organizing a business leaders breakfast this fall. Mundelein officials want it known that a friendly business climate starts at the council table.

How we get fleeced

Editor:

On television is a news segment called the "Fleecing of America." It deals with highly questionable federal programs and government waste.

That waste goes on at every level of government; the dollars involved are not as great, but the sheer numbers are even greater and in most cases go unnoticed. At the annual meeting of Libertyville Township, the highway commissioner made a plea for a new truck. The need was a bit flimsy.

The bottom line is he wishes to get rid of a 1989 Diesel engine Ford with only 29,000 miles. By his own admission, the truck is in excellent condition and would bring a high resale value. It is garaged in a heated building, has the best maintenance and washing services and is driven less than 5,000 miles annually.

Does Libertyville Township really need a new $50,000 to $60,000 truck or is this the local version of the "Fleecing of America?"

Eliminate union

Editor:

The public debate has begun on alternative ways of funding public education in the State of Illinois. The Governor's Commission on school funding has itemized the current problems such as spending disparities between districts, defining the minimum dollars required per student, reliance on property taxes and the list goes on.

The real solution is not a switch to income taxes as some would propose, but the limitation of the teachers union from all schools in the State of Illinois. More money in any form for the teachers union will only create further spiraling and escalating union salaries and benefits, plus union demands for less time in the classroom, shorter school days, and a shorter school year, none of which contributes to quality education.

We can only fix school funding in Illinois by returning control of funding to the school boards, parents and the community. The boards must have the authority to pay the good teachers and remove the bad teachers.

Performance compensation is the way of the world and belongs in public education. Union teachers who do not agree are always free to leave and get a higher paying job in the private sector. There are thousands of bright, young and energetic teacher graduates each year who are eager to energize education.

Waiver worthwhile

Editor:

The practice of allowing General Assembly members to award tuition waivers to citizens of their legislative district is 91 years old. It allows us to award two four-year scholarships or eight one-year scholarships annually. This is no perk for legislators. It is a benefit to hundreds of Illinois students and families. I understand that federal law prevents us from disclosing the names of the recipients, unless they give us the authority.

Through these waivers, we can assist the family who lost a parent but still does not manage to qualify for federal aid. We can help a See LETTERS page B5

PARTY LINES

Salvi reorganizing campaign staff to repair image

Party Lines, the Lakeland Newspapers column of political commentary, is compiled from staff reports.

It seems GOP candidate for Illinois Senator Al Salvi has realized what Lake Countyans figured out early after the primary—he's losing his "white hat" image.

Wire service reports from the capital indicate Salvi will be reorganizing his campaign and that he has been particularly unhappy with spokesperson Paul Scheeler. Salvi feels the tactics used by his campaign following the primary have not been in keeping with his own personal style of fact-based campaigning and have made him look aggressive.

Reorganization of the campaign is currently underway.

We hope Salvi will be able to find a way to meld his desire to move up in his political career while hanging on to his long-standing commitment of being accessible to the people.

Campaign workers Tuesday confirmed a shake-up was underway. Details of the new positions were not available but Salvi has said there would be a place for everyone currently working with the campaign. Look for former WKRS political commentator Charlie Johnston to have a role. He's been with Salvi since the beginning.

At the altar—Lake County Democratic Chairman Terry Link and Susan McCall, a public relations specialist, will tie the knot in a ceremony Sunday, June 2. Link is a Waukegan businessman and McCall, a Republican, is a resident of Vernon Hills. Friends say McCall may be changing her name, but she's not changing her party.

Vital signs?—After a meager turnout at a meeting at Antioch, hard core members of the Lake County Township Officials Assn. are looking for ways to revitalize the organization. Only about a dozen officials out of some 140 elected township officers attended.

Still looking—Democrats haven't given up the search for a candidate to run against Republican County Board Rep. David Stolman in a Buffalo Grove district.

Joel Aronson of Long Grove, a certified public accountant, backed out at the last minute before the deadline for certifying slated candidates.

County Chairman Terry Link said the party is prepared to support the campaign of an independent third party candidate who might surface in the next several weeks. The Dems can't get over the fact that Stolman dumped them for the GOP last year.

Cane lady—Several broken toes have slowed County Board Rep. Judy Martini (R-Antioch) to walking with a cane. Martini broke the bones when she accidentally collided with a coffee table.

Unforgettable—A name that's both easy to remember—and forget—is Betty Hall, the educator selected by Democrats to run against Congressman Phil Crane in November. Hall hails from the Cook County side of the 8th Congressional Dist.

Best voting record—Independent voters of Illinois have chosen State Rep. Lauren Beth Gash (D-60th) as a recipient of their best legislative voting record award.

"State Representative Gash has established herself as an independent and issue oriented representative who votes on legislation based on its merits, not partisan politics," said Robert Bartell, state chair of independent voters of Illinois. The second-term legislator has made a habit out of being non-partisan.

student that shows tremendous potential, but who may not qualify for other scholarships because of average grades. We can award a tuition waiver to a student entering a non-traditional field of study for which scholarship money is scarce.

It is true that Illinois General Assembly tuition waivers cost the state over $4 million annually. However, this is a minuscule amount compared to the $113 million the state pays through waivers granted for ROTC programs, teacher education and veterans and by individual public institutions for graduate assistantships, athletes, foreign and out-of-state students, support staff and children of employees.

This system of awarding tuition waivers is a good one. As state senators and representatives, we know the needs of families in our districts. We take the time to consider all candidates. Applicants for these scholarships are not just numbers on a page. They are members of our community—the neighborhood babysitter, your child's soccer coach, the young person who mows your lawn. As officials elected by the people and for the people, we want to see these young people succeed as much as you do. I, for one, am proud of my ability to so greatly help the students in my district, and I relish the opportunity to select recipients for these waivers.

Taxation hidden

The residents of Grayslake have been taken for a ride by the village board, mayor and city manager, again, and I'll wager that they are not even aware of it.

Look closely at the electric bill and you will see listed, as a charge, "Franchise Cost." This cost was initiated as of May 1, 1995. True, it does not amount to much on each individual bill, but multiply that amount by the number of households and businesses in Grayslake, and it will add up to a goodly sum every month.

What is the Franchise Cost? According to a ComEd service representative, it reflects a deal made by the Village of Grayslake, with ComEd, to pass the cost of electricity for traffic and street lights to the residents, a bill which the village refused to pay.

Then we have the municipal tax, which replaces the buying of a vehicle tag. If you look closely, you will see that it is applied to the entire bill. It is not figured on the KWH usage, as the state tax is. Therefore you are paying for KWH usage, plus the franchise cost, plus the regulatory tax, plus the state tax—the total of which is the base of the municipal tax calculation. You are paying double taxation on the franchise cost, regulatory and state taxes, and the entire amount of the municipal tax is going to the village.

Another question which needs to be addressed is, where is this money going? New village halls, swimming pools, or some other frivolous pet project, or a real overhaul of Grayslake's antiquated sewer system and roads?

A Reminder

As a reminder to Lipservice contributors, Lakeland will not publish complaints naming specific businesses, as there is no way to corroborate the complaints. In some instances, Lakeland will print a message and replace the business name with a generic description, such as "the store." Please be aware that, as a rule, business complaints will not be printed.

Please!

I'm calling in response to the caller congratulating and thanking Beverly Peroni for getting justice on their side. Please! Beverly did more of an injustice. Did you all get your checks faster? Yes. Would you have gotten your checks anyway? Yes. My thanks go to Al and Trish Roth, the Vikings board of directors, volunteers, coaches, moms and dads, and anyone who put in time. I feel Ms. Peroni and her small group of followers should put their energy into volunteering and helping the organization that does so much good for the youth of our communities. When all is said and done, I hope she's just as quick to apologize as she was to accuse.

What a concept

Hey, Gavin taxpayer, what century did you fall out of? This ain't no Peyton Place. The days of the corrupt small town board of education where you pay Uncle Billy Joe Bob $50 to get your school job are long gone, buddy. Schools are run by principals, superintendents, and professional staff. Imagine that, a small handful of people who are actually trained to do the job of running a school. What a concept!

Habit or heredity?

I've been wondering, why is it that men have to spit all the time and women don't? Is there some physical difference that makes this necessary? Or is it just a Neanderthal, macho response to being a man?

Print and do

This is for all you people that are having garage sales. If you say you'll have it open at 10 a.m., then have it open at 10 a.m., not 6 or 7 a.m. or any other time. We get there at the time you printed in your ad, but we find out half your stuff is gone because you've let people come in earlier. If you're going to print it, do it.

Question is where

We cannot stop north-south traffic in Lake County. If Route 53 is not built, the Illinois Dept. of Transportation has made it clear that they will add lanes to Routes 83 and 12 instead. It isn't a question of to build or not to build, but where to build. Let's send the traffic up the route which has been planned for 25 years.

Election time near

Well, Antioch residents, our zoning board approved the cable property. Minus roads, park plans, the property is roughly 95 acres with 414 homes, starting price $120,000. That will definitely benefit Antioch, won't it? The village board and zoning board are not looking out for the good of Antioch. In articles you read, the village is willing to work with the school to solve overcrowding. With 414 homes and two children per house, that's 800 children added to Dist. 34 and Antioch High School. Yes, election time is coming. Starting with the mayor's office, we definitely need a change.

Get slots out

I'm calling in response to "Keep the road blocks." I don't know who the so-called idiot is who called about illegal gambling in Fox Lake, but there is illegal gambling in Fox Lake, Antioch, Round Lake, and probably other places. Slot machines don't belong in our establishments. Road blocks, yes. Keep the road blocks if it will keep drunk drivers off the road. On the other hand, we don't want people coming in and ending up spending their paychecks when all they really want is to have a drink and relax.

Is it finished?

Is the intersection at Fairfield and 120 going to get finished this year? Gee, I hope so. Maybe they're using the same contractor that did Hart Rd.

We're elated

The best informed and most intelligent voters of Fox Lake are elated that Jim Pappas is going to run for mayor. Pappas will rescue the village from its rapid deterioration over the last couple of years.

Sleep well

This is for Mayor Daley, Gov. Edgar and the head of the Chicago Airport Authority. It seems that everyone in the suburbs put up with the airplanes flying overhead and waking them up at night because it's good business for Chicago. How come there aren't any planes flying over your houses? See how you feel when you don't get any sleep!

A suggestion

If the village of Antioch officials are true and sincere about their proposal to restore wetlands and wildlife, I have a suggestion. About seven or eight years ago, the village annexes approximately 65 acres of wetland property located between Route 173 and Little Silver Lake. This land was basically zoned for residential estate by the county. However, after the village annexation, the village lowered the zoning all the way down to industrial, making the owner a potential millionaire with the stroke of a pen. I suggest the village rezone the property to its original status and purchase it for a public reserve. Since the mayor of Antioch used to work for the owner of the property and the mayor was on the zoning board when the annexation and rezoning occurred, the lines of communication have already been established.

Gurnee Mills hosts sporting events for armchair athletes

Will eating potato chips ever be an Olympic event? Perhaps not in Atlanta, but at Gurnee Mills, the Midwest's largest enclosed discount mall, couch potatoes who may never compete in the real games can participate in an Olympic-style contest of skill on Sunday, June 2, at 2 p.m. The Couch Potato Olympics test the prowess of sports viewers in a range of events designed to challenge the most avid couch competitors, while celebrating Olympic excitement as the torch passes through Lake County.

"Having the Olympic torch pass through your neighborhood is a once-in-a-lifetime event," said Harry D. Stecher, vice president/general manager at Gurnee Mills. "We want to celebrate that excitement while creating a fun event for our customers to enjoy. Everyone can relate to a couch potato."

Nix's goes down in history with colorful past

Everyone calls him "Buddy," but his real name is Victor. So is his son's. His dad and his grandfather however are simply called "Bud," but they too have the name "Victor" on their birth certificates. All of those known as Bud or Buddy Nix worked side by side at one time or another in what was once the largest meat packing house in Lake County.

While the original store site in Long Lake is slated to be torn down in the fall, "Nix's" lives on through two furniture stores in neighboring Round Lake.

From his office in "Nix's Gallery of Fine Furniture" at 832 W. Rollins Road, Buddy Nix III (who prefers using "Bud" for business) Nix, 47, recalls the stories he was told by his grandfather and dad.

"Originally when my grandparents bought it in 1945, the store was divided in two," said Nix.

TINA L. SWIECH
Staff Reporter

He explained his grand-dad turned half into "Nix's Royal Blue Grocery Store" and the other half into a soda fountain/ice cream parlor. The elder Nix did this to make way for his son to have an income when he came home from serving in the military.

During the store's hey-day, it was the gleam and glitz of the one-armed bandit which drew customers there from near and far. Inside, several long-gone slot machines perched upon the counter invited shoppers to stop and drop in a coin or two.

"The main income [then] was from the slot machines," explained Nix. "I don't know if it was legal or not, but I just know it was done."

He remembers his father and grandfather telling him stories of a couple of shady-looking characters who came to the store once a week. The machines were unloaded by the men who gave half the profits to the store owner, and kept the other half for themselves.

In 1963 his father decided to make a risky move. He would change the small retail shop into a huge meat warehouse and wholesale food market. Soon shelves were stacked with industrial size cans (#10) of fruits and vegetables, and big freezers were constructed to hold large parcels of meat. At that time the business was Lake County's biggest supplier of meats. Area schools, hospitals, and camps were all patrons of Nix's.

In 1971 Nix III took over and changed the business to a booming combination wholesale/retail. Anyone hosting a party or picnic could purchase a No. 10 Industrial size cans of pork and beans and a whole side of beef if they desired.

"We had quite a reputation around for our ground beef because it was fresh, and for our homemade sausage," said Nix. He's willing to share the recipes with anyone who comes into his furniture store.

The 1980s was the most lucrative time for Nix. The most popular item on the retail menu were the big boxes of variety items for $19.95.

"On a good weekend day we'd sell a hundred of them," said Nix. "We were Sam's Club before it ever started."

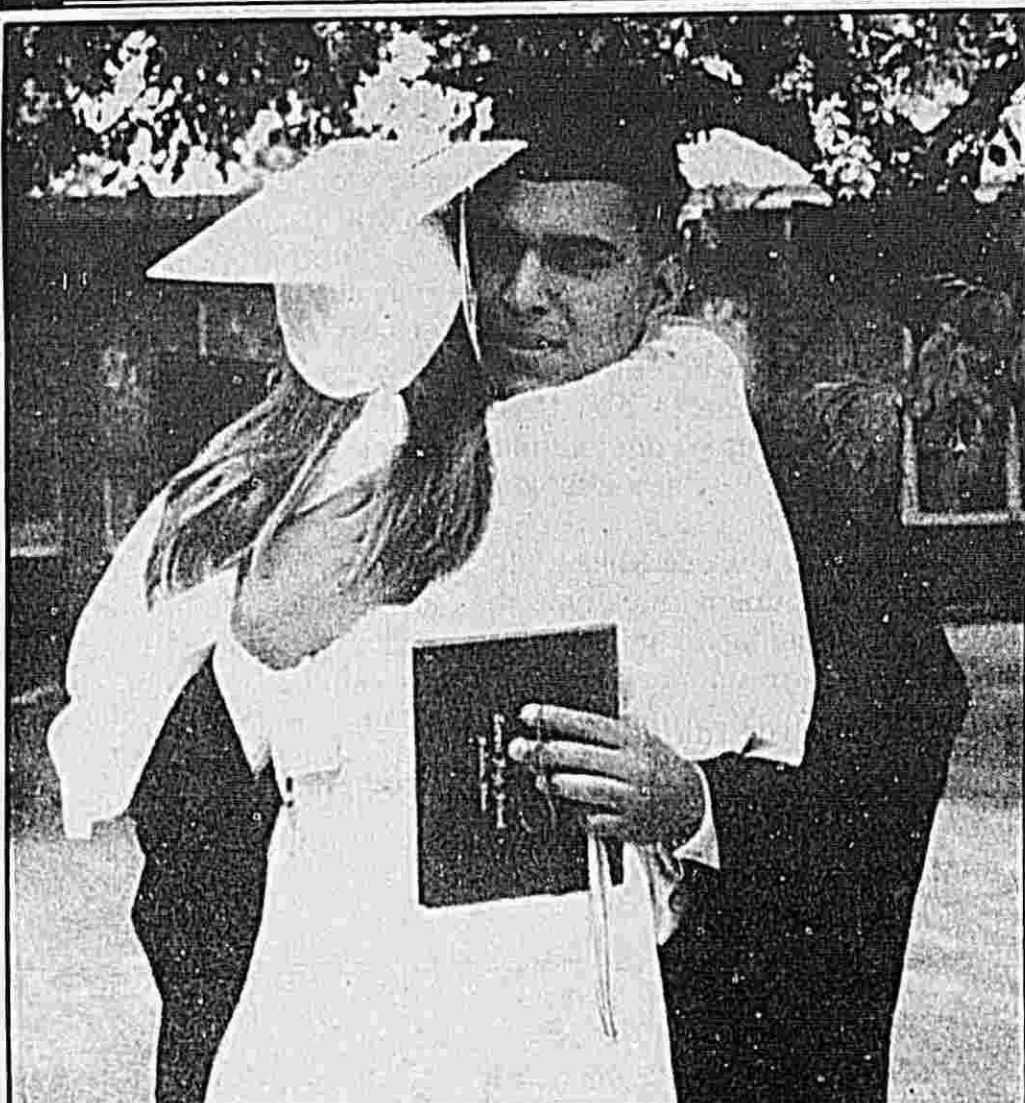

In 1985 Nix began a new venture. While still operating the Long Lake store, he saw a new opportunity in a whole different business.

"We saw a better future in the furniture industry," Nix said. Catering to the budget-minded, the first was Nix's Outlet Furniture warehouse at 1020 W. Rollins Road. Nix's Gallery of Fine Furniture just down the road came next.

In 1990 the Nix family closed down their Long Lake business and sold the building on contract. The new See NIX's page B12

In 1945 Bud Nix purchased two shops in downtown Long Lake. Later, his grandson, also named Bud, made them into one store, combining wholesale and retail which served customers who came in for large quantity items.

RMC and CLC sign articulation agreement

Robert Morris College (RMC) signed an articulation agreement with College of Lake County (CLC) opening the door for CLC students to complete requirements for a Bachelor's of Business Administration in as little as three years. Additionally, Robert Morris College announced a $5,000 College of Lake County President's Scholarship will be awarded to the top associate degree graduate transferring to RMC.

According to Wilma Purpura, RMC transfer coordinator, a Transfer Tuition Scholarship of up to $4,800 will also be awarded to all CLC transfer students with a GPA of 3.0 on a 4.0 scale who are accepted for admission to RMC.

"We're pleased with this agreement because it expands opportunities for CLC students to complete requirements for a bachelor's degree," said Nancy Bentley, director of counseling.

"This agreement puts to rest the biggest concern that freshman and sophomore students have—'Will my credits transfer?' said Purpura. "CLC students who have completed the requirements for an Associate Degree and are accepted at RMC, will be granted junior year status."

Robert Morris College awards the Bachelor of Business Administration degree with concentrations in Business, Accounting and Computer Information Systems. A new program, Healthcare Management, will be added in September. With RMC's year-round academic calendar, a full time student can complete requirements for a BBA in 60 weeks (six ten-week quarters). All graduates of RMC are entitled to free lifetime placement assistance. Consistently, 95 percent of RMC graduates are placed in career related positions.

Robert Morris College is a not-for-profit, private baccalaureate degree-granting institution, accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools. With campuses in Chicago, Orland Park and Springfield, Illinois, the college serves a multicultural student body of 3,400 students (33 percent African American, 33 percent Hispanic and 33 percent Caucasian/other) interested in getting an education that meets the demands of today's business, graphic arts, healthcare and technical world. Fairmont Shores features great Friday fish fry Lovers of savory southern cooking can now enjoy it at Fairmont Shores seven days a week beginning at 11 a.m.

Diners just need to take Rte. 59 to Bald Eagle Road, between Monaville Road and Grand Avenue, to Lakeshore Drive, turn right and drive to a dead end to find Fairmont Shores overlooking beautiful Fox Lake.

Though the restaurant's mailing address is Lake Villa, it occupies a coveted spot with a breathtaking view of the main lake of the popular Chain O'Lakes, Lake County's pride and joy!

If it wasn't for the word of mouth of the restaurant's many satisfied customers, Fairmont's attractive and off the main drag lakeside location would keep its excellence "the best kept secret in town."

Fairmont Shores, owned by Jimmy and Nancy Rogers, has been in this location for six years serving Jimmy's southern specialties such as Jimmy Burgers, BBQ ribs, blackened chicken and black beans and rice.

These dishes, as well as Jimmy's Carolina burgers and Cajun fries, and the restaurant's name, honor his birthplace, Fairmont, N.C., making Fairmont's down home southern cooking authentic.

The Fairmont's Friday fresh fish fry, done southern style, spicy chicken wings and many more of the specialties Jimmy has brought from his hometown are just a few of the favorites that customers demand more of.

The Rogers' nine years of experience, and Jimmy's culinary expertise are two of the main reasons for the eatery's popularity.

Fairmont Shores has a deck with a wonderful view of the lake that seats 75 people, as well as a dining room that comfortably serves 65 and a lounge.

Delicious homemade soups and a family atmosphere enhanced by the restaurant's country decor keep the local folks, as well as tourists, coming back again and again for more of Jimmy's succulent specialties served with a friendly smile.

Monday is the only day that Fairmont Shores is closed. The restaurant's hours are Tuesday through Thursday, from 4 to 11 p.m. plus lunch is also served on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, from 11:30 a.m., as well as dinner.

MUSICPost vacation blues-how to handle them

by JIM WARNKEN,
PRESIDENT, NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

It's Monday morning and you're back to work. Only yesterday you were lying on the beach in Hawaii. You should feel relaxed, refreshed and ready to go back to work. Instead you feel sort of blah. You're not only tired, but unable to concentrate. It may be jetlag, but most likely you have a case of "post-vacation depression".

Post-vacation depression is brought on by both physical and psychological factors. Each must be understood and dealt with if we are to return to work with a clear mind. (Actually, I think we should all just remain on vacation, but I guess that's not practical.)

The physical factors which contribute to this depression are not, in most cases, the late nights of partying while on vacation, but just the opposite. Most people get more sleep than they normally get at home. They usually get more exercise. I know I find myself taking the car the two blocks to the post office at home, but I'll walk miles exploring a foreign city.

So why doesn't your body feel refreshed after all that good treatment? Your mind has told your body it's home again and get ready for that poor food, 12-hour work days and five hours of sleep!

The psychological factors are usually that you've had a chance to get away from your structured, predictable day and experience the uncertainty and excitement a vacation brings. Now it's back to the same old routine. What can you do to ease back into the work schedule?

Come back a day early. Read your mail, pay your bills, do laundry. Schedule at least one fun thing to do the week after your vacation. Continue the physical exercise you started on your vacation.

Don't try to catch up on all your work the first day back. It will only heighten any depression.

If your depression lasts, turn it into something positive. Learn from what made you feel good on your vacation. Relax more. Get more exercise. Be more spontaneous. Eat better. Have more fun. We take a vacation to have fun; there is no reason we can't carry that into our work lives.

Nix's

owner suddenly passed away. Things were tied up in court for a long time until the family could regain the property. A few years ago a small fire broke out in an upstairs apartment of the packing house and the building suffered lots of smoke damage. This year it was again sold to an Ingleside couple who already has a few businesses.

Kathy and Jim Carlino purchased the property with plans to demolish the old structure this fall. A new building with double stores and a duo of top apartments are slated for the site.

One of the new businesses will be a coffee/bagel/sandwich shop perfect for those heading to and from the Metra commuter train across the street.

When asked if he will be sad to see the building go, Nix simply agreed it's a part of Long Lake's past. Looking at a photo taken 70 years ago, he pointed to the area behind the store which was nothing more than open fields.

"That store was there before most people were. It's historical for Long Lake," Nix said. When the business packed its bags, "A lot of people weren't happy about that," he recalled.

"It's supported three generations of us," said Nix.

Both he and his son, who goes by "Van," work together in their furniture stores. Buddy is an interior decorator and Van is an interior designer who recently graduated from the University of Mississippi. While talking about days gone by, the elder Nix was surprised by a visit from a familiar face: Keith Roche, a former employee who worked at Nix's Packing House during the early '80s.

Now in the U.S. Air Force, Roche is on his way to Okinawa, Japan. He said he couldn't pass up the opportunity to stop in and say hello to his former boss.

"I'd love to have a reunion of all the people who worked at our store," Nix said. The two reminisced about old times.

Roche said he began working at Nix's fresh out of high school. Nix said he hired young people and encouraged them not to stay too long, but to go out and pursue their dreams.

Something weird this way comes

If the news headlines get any more bizarre than they have recently, I might have to start believing that the National Enquirer was actually just ahead of its time.

For example, you know strange things are going on in the world when you start thinking to yourself that Ross Perot might be psychic. Remember back to the last presidential campaign, when he kept talking about "the giant sucking sound" we'd all be hearing if the NAFTA agreement went through? Who'd have thought he had the inside track on that one?

How else can you explain the recent news story about a serial goat killer that is supposedly stalking Mexico? Apparently, witnesses are claiming that "The Goatsucker" or El Chupacabras, looks like a Shaq-size vampire bat with an NBA-worthy wingspan, long fangs, buggy eyes and legs like a kangaroo (I wonder if he can play center?). A number of barnyard deaths in Mexico are being blamed on this creature, who supposedly kills by sinking his fangs into goats, sheep and chickens and then sucking out all their blood. (Reminds me of a movie I saw once—"Night of the IRS.")

Possible explanations offered on the creature's origin range from outer space being or a toxic dump site monstrosity, to a hoax perpetrated by the government to divert attention from the country's economic crisis. Whatever it is, it's apparent that these people have never spent any time in Lake County after a good rain when the mosquito crop hatches. Talk about a "giant sucking sound!" (And that's inside the local taverns—outside, it's even louder!)

Another bizarre headline that caught my eye concerned a "witch hunt" in southern Illinois. To be specific, the ruckus occurred down in Monmouth, which is a small college town not far from Galesburg (it also hap-

"Why?"

"Because your little town made the front page of that large paper in Chicago that I can't mention here in this paper! So, when's the bonfire?"

Jane, who sounded just a touch embarrassed that Monmouth had become the new Salem of southern Illinois, assured me that the "witch" was in no immediate danger, and that pens to be my husband's alma mater). A divorced (i.e. "fallen") woman opened up a seemingly innocent shop in town that became a hangout for students. Next thing you know, rumors were swirling that the woman was a witch luring students into her world of black magic and Satanic rituals, things like serving herbal tea while reading books.

LIFE'S A BEAR

After reading that article, and after my husband and I stopped snickering long enough to be capable of making a phone call, we dialed up our friends, the Simpsons, down in Monmouth.

"So Jane—just exactly what kind of crops are you people growing down there?"

It was just a case of small town gossip building to a dull roar. We didn't get to talk very long, though, since she said something about having to go collect firewood.

And finally, you cannot end a discussion of weird happenings without asking yourself this burning question: "What about Bob?" Consider the recent photograph in the news of the "just retired from the Senate in order to run for President" Bob Dole, trying to look like your average "Bob at the beach," dressed in a rumpled, rather snug-in-the-waist T-shirt and some swim trunks.

It doesn't get much weirder than that!

Movie Pick

'Flipper' is like a fish out of water

Another film based on an old TV series favorite debuted last weekend, adding to the already long list of such movies that were better not made.

The new film about that favorite dolphin, Flipper, could have been as warm and human as the TV series was, but this is 1990s and the naiveté of 30 years ago appears simple and mundane by today's standards.

Even Elijah Wood, who retains his childhood "cuteness" as a problem teenager, doesn't get into his role as the teen who meets and makes friends with a marvelous dolphin while unwillingly spending a summer in Florida with his uncle, played by Paul Hogan. Actually there's too much Wood being boring and not enough Flipper doing his water thing.

So even though we get brief glimpses of our favorite dolphin doing all the same tricks we see others at Sea Worlds, aquariums and zoos all over do, we never experience the warmth of the human/animal kinship between the boy and the dolphin that the original story was based on.

Add to an already boring and predictable plot, improbable toxic waste dumping villains, who by the way were the same guys who missed killing Flipper earlier, but did his Mom in, and you have a movie you can wait for on video, but only if there's nothing on TV that night.

Hogan, who is affable enough, has an uninteresting romance going with Chelsea Field. He has turned out to be a one pic star, meaning the first "Crocodile Dundee" was the only worthwhile movie he has done.

This is a 1.5 star film out of a possible five stars, but it is a summer flick, so since it's PG

Elijah Wood and Paul Hogan

rated, maybe the very young might at least enjoy the scenes with Flipper in them. The movie is as clean and sparkling as the

Florida waters where it was filmed—too bad clean has to be almost as empty as a vacuum in this case.—by GLORIA DAVIS

Horoscope

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Distractions and interruptions are likely to interfere with your concentration on the job this week. No matter how hard you try, your accomplishments fall short of your good intentions.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Place the accent on cooperation and diplomacy early in the week. Someone is trying to undermine your accomplishments and you need to overcome this. Little things are likely to interfere with getting your way over the weekend.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You'll need to be tactful in your speech this week, particularly with co-workers. A loved one or friend also could easily take offense at something you say offhandedly. A weekend entertainment may be too costly for you.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Your efforts to read between the lines may lead to faulty assumptions this week. Avoid a tendency to jump to the wrong conclusions. It will take extra effort to be productive this week.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Unexpected company dropping by could upset your domestic schedule early in the week. In business, a moody higher-up or associate will have to be handled with kid gloves. This person is getting pressure from above and is not really out to "get" you.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A close partner is sensitive this week and easily offended. Be careful of ill-considered remarks that could give offense. You sometimes open your mouth before you think about what you're doing.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Don't put too much stock in what a person who tends to exaggerate has to say this week. This person has proven in the past to be untrustworthy. It's not the best week for getting your ideas across to others.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Not much will come of big talk you hear in business this week. Those rumors of layoffs and downsizing are more hot air than anything else.

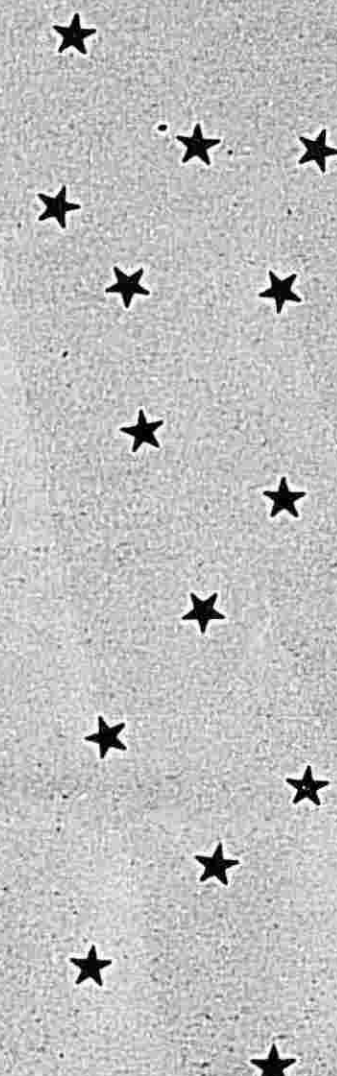

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Judgment could be off this week regarding spending. You may be making a friendship matter more complicated than it needs to be. You're really reading way too much into this. This evening, you're inclined to overspend on pleasure.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Double-check costs in connection with travel. Slight strain could exist with a loved one. Also, others' sensitivities may get in the way of achieving agreements this week. Some feel you're stealing their thunder.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Extra expenses may arise in connection with another person this week, particularly a child. A business proposition which is put on the table midweek requires revisions. This weekend, guard against unnecessary spending when shopping.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Keep the lines of communication open with close partners, particularly early in the week. Don't put others in the position of having to be mind-readers. Your tendency to do this causes hurt feelings and frustration.

At the Spring District III dinner held at the Arlington Park Hilton, Lake County BPW was the recipient of four district awards: Choices (for the Reality Store held at Grant High School in Fox Lake for local eighth graders) and for the Bottomless Closet, an organization in Chicago and Waukegan that outfits women coming off of public assistance with business attire to interview for jobs; Legislation; Finance; and Individual Development Courses. Business-education alliance enters cyberspace

SUZIE REED

Staff Reporter

The partnership between business and education has grown even closer with the launch of the Junior Achievement of Chicago homepage on the Internet, expected to be completed this week.

"We can really show the community the place we have in education," explained Sandy Daffé, president of Junior Achievement of Chicago. "It's a great way to communicate with people about events, donors and volunteers."

JA expects to be involved with 110,000 students this year, and the Internet will allow parents and potential volunteers to access information on what the partnership has to offer. The web site is being developed by Comdisco Inc., a corporation heavily involved in Junior Achievement activities, and will be taken over by JA once it is up and running.

"We worked with them and let them use our technical people to create the site," said

'There's an amazing mentoring relationship that can happen. It's harder to get volunteers than dollars.'

— Sandy Daffé,
president of
Junior Achievement in Chicago

Nick Pontikes, executive vice president of Comdisco Inc., who was instrumental in setting up the homepage. The project was inspired, he said, by a class on computer skills.

Information to be offered includes descriptions and locations of JA programs, pictures of the participating students, and information on volunteering from any occupation. "[JA] takes the skills people have and shows them how it could be applied to the program," said Pontikes.

One of the fastest growing JA programs is in Lake County, said Mike O'Loughlin, director of operations in Lake and McHenry counties. JA is virtually in every school district in the county.

"In terms of quality it's one of the best," he said. "In six years it's grown from 125 classes to 425 this year."

Participating companies include Baxter Healthcare, Abbott Laboratories, Kemper National Insurance Co., Motorola, J.C. Penney, ITW Paslode, Hollister, and Buehler International.

Doors & More factory outlet expands offerings

SUZIE REED

Staff Reporter

Front doors, back doors, storm doors, French doors, Dutch doors. Just like the sign says. Leaded glass, architectural accents, vanities. That's the "more."

The business got started as somewhat of an accident, said owner Keith Surroz, who moved his growing business from Round Lake to Lake Villa in February.

"I saw an ad for doors, and I wanted to buy doors for a house," he explained. "They had 300 doors; I bought them and we became a factory outlet business."

His partner Eric Alander left for Colorado eight months ago to set up a similar business there.

"We started out in a garage," said Surroz. "We decided we'd be better off if we just got a store."

Although the new facility is open at 36757 N. Hwy. 83, work is in progress on the showroom. The lower floor will feature a display area in front, where all the door units will be set up. A gallery above will contain such treasures as leaded glass, unusual and interesting trim, vanities and skylights.

"Our doors are all brand name, but the selection depends on what was purchased," explained Field Representative

Valerie Stevens. "It is a factory outlet; if we don't have a lot of overhead, we don't have to charge a lot."

New merchandise comes in every week, she said, and includes overstocks, display items and factory seconds with minor flaws. The Lake Villa store contains 5,000 square feet of space, and a warehouse provides another 1,400 square feet of storage. The current inventory includes fire-rated doors, interior paneled doors, V-windows, sliding doors, chair rails and "gingerbread."

"We have a lot of fun stuff," said Stevens. "It's the place to come if you want to do some remodeling."

Glass panels and sidelights provide a variety of decorating options, and arrangements can be easily customized. Installation is also available. Because it is an outlet store, Surroz can be flexible and is willing to bargain, said Stevens.

"You can get what you want without spending a lot of extra money," she said. Although Doors & More can't really compete with the chains on single doors, they can offer better prices on multiple units, such as doors with sidelights.

Special orders are available from Kingston and Westmont, but for real bargains, customers just have to visit the store. A See DOORS page C3

Max & Erma's Gurnee location opens June 3

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

A differently sized Max & Erma's restaurant is soon to open in Gurnee. The restaurant, located as an outlet in Gurnee Mills, will be 7,300 square feet. Public opening is set for June 3.

"This will be one of the smaller prototypes, but will offer the same amount of seating," Kristi Maines-Simone, restaurant spokesperson, said.

The restaurant will be the seventh in the Chicagoland area. A fire at the site in the back area caused a delay of 30 days in opening. The Jan. 27 fire caused an estimated $468,500 damage.

Indoor seating will be for 200 people, the dining area has 50 tables. Some 150 positions were created by the restaurant's opening and associates were welcomed earlier this week.

"We are very excited to finally bring Max & Erma's to Gurnee," said Todd Barnum, president and chief executive officer of the Columbus, Ohio-based chain.

The concept started in Columbus as an 80-year neighborhood restaurant was transformed. Antiques and artifacts added to the all-American menu of gourmet burgers, homemade pasta and onion rings, hot apple pie and a "build your own" sandae bar.

Menu prices range from $4.95 to $7.95 for lunch and $5.95 to $12.95 for dinner. Hours in Gurnee will be: 11 a.m. to 11 p.m., Monday through Thursday; 11 a.m. to midnight Friday and Saturday and 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. Sunday. Sunday brunch is served from 11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

With plans to expand the program even more, JA needs five new "whole school" sponsors for participation of every class, O'Loughlin said.

"There's an amazing mentoring relationship that can happen," said Daffé. "It's harder to get volunteers than dollars."

She hopes the availability of information on the Internet will attract not only more businesses but more students.

"Comdisco opened our eyes to a great avenue for us to expand our student outreach. If they know you're there, it's a way to keep in touch," she said. "It's a very cost-effective way to communicate."

grand opening will be held within a month, said Surroz.

His motto, he said with a grin, is, "We just gotta sell this stuff!"

Hours for the Doors & More Factory Outlet are 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, but Surroz said he will gladly put in extra hours to help people with their remodeling projects.

Builders Association seeks nominations

The Home Builders Association of Greater Chicago, sponsor of the Key Awards program for excellence in housing design, requests entries for the annual competition by June 28.

The program, which is now in its 24th year, rewards residential home building in land planning, landscape architecture, architectural design, single family detached for sale, custom homes for sale or sold, special homes designed for a public event, semi-custom and spec homes for sale or sold, multi-family units attached for sale or rent, remodeling and interior merchandising.

The 12th category is the Crystal Key which is new this year and will recognize overall achievement in creativity and innovation. This category is open to both single family and multi-family in four square foot groupings from homes less than 2,500 square feet to homes more than 4,501 square feet. This category will recognize the special innovations that have been used in new home construction over the past few years; infrastructure planning, nine foot and other volume ceiling spaces, second and third floor lofts and open spaces, high efficiency furnaces and appliances, superior framing and insulating materials, media rooms and three car garages.

Last year there were 330 entries in the competition and over 50 Gold Key Awards were presented. Entries are judged by a team of three judges who visit each home in the square foot category.

Although the Home Builders Association of Greater Chicago is the sponsor of the event, both members and non-members are allowed to enter and may obtain an application by calling (708)627-7575. Award winners frequently advertise their homes as Key winners and the Gold, Silver and Bronze Key plaques are prominently displayed in builder offices throughout the eight county area.

the state convention.

President Daluga (Gurnee), President-elect Rose Foskett (McHenry), First Vice President Jacqueline Small (Buffalo Grove), Second Vice President Carol Hinger-Smith (Waukegan), Karen Roberts, secretary (Libertyville) and Judy Crook, treasurer (Deerfield) are the outgoing officers for 1996-97.

This year a substantial donation was made to the Bottomless Closet, on behalf of the many women coming off welfare roles who need clothes to wear on job interviews.

Additionally, two scholarships, named the Lucille Schott Scholarship Fund, were awarded to the College of Lake County.

Lake County BPW was also instrumental in the organization of the Lake County Women's Coalition which celebrated the passage of the 19th amendment at a tea party held at the Lincolnshire Marriott in October. More than 450 women, representing 30 women's organizations in Lake County, were in attendance.

Fundraising efforts could not have been accomplished without the talents of Trudy Hellios (McHenry), immediate past president, and the support of members and local community businesses.

Daluga passed the gavel to Foskett at the annual installation ceremony at the Lamb's Farm in Libertyville.

1996-97 officers include President-elect Carol Hinger-Smith, Treasurer Susan Malecha (Libertyville), and Recording Secretary Sue Maxwell (Libertyville).

Health partnership targets immunizations

A study commissioned by the Lake County Community Health Partnership shows that only 68 percent of children in the county have received the recommended schedule of immunizations by age 2. By age 3, one out of five children still have not had all the shots that should have been received by age 2. The rate of compliance is considerably lower than the overall national average of 75 percent. The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services National Health Promotion and Disease Prevention objective is 90 percent compliance by the year 2000.

"Despite the significant resources in Lake County, our children are under immunized," said Dale Galassie, the co-chair of the Partnership and executive director of the Lake County Health Department. "It's important to not that those children who lack immunizations can become more susceptible to hepatitis, measles, diphtheria, polio and other childhood diseases."

In response to this study, the Lake County Community Health Partnership, which includes all Lake County hospitals, the Lake County Medical Society, Lake County schools, the Lake County Health Department, Lake County government, the College of Lake County, the United Way of Lake County, local businesses and many other social service organizations, has put together a program to boost immunizations. The Lake County Community Health Partnership was created to address the pervasive health issues and needs of the residents of Lake County.

The partnership is looking at promoting immunization education, cost effective service, and make health clinics accessible as possible for families who do not have a personal physicians but need immunizations. To this end, the partnership has established several satellite immunization locations throughout Lake County. All County hospitals will offer immunization clinics administering shots for $6 apiece; no family will be turned away because of inability to pay.

"Our goal is to increase coverage to at least 90 percent among the zero to 2-year age group in Lake County," said Sally Foster, co-chair of the partnership and vice president of community services with the United Way of Lake County. "By working together, we want community residents to know that immunization is necessary to protect our children's future and that the service can be affordable and convenient."

Educational program empowers parents

A national program for parents of children with hemophilia and other bleeding disorders has been launched in San Antonio with a three-day training program for more than 20 hemophilia treatment centers from across the county, including Children's Memorial Hospital in Chicago. Parents Empowering Parents (PEP) is a peer program developed by the hemophilia treatment center at the Children's Hospital of Michigan through an educational grant from Bayer Corporation. The program promotes effective parenting skills while focusing on the unique challenges faced by parents of children with bleeding disorders.

Social workers, nurses and parents from the centers studied the process-oriented program with its developers before bringing it back to their individual center for roll-out. Parents Empowering Parents is presented to parents by parents of children with bleeding disorders in tandem with a social worker and a nurse.

"This team approach combines the strength of peer counseling with professional expertise," said Danna Merritt, a social worker at the Regional Comprehensive Hemophilia Diagnostic and Treatment Center in Michigan. "By sharing their experiences, the parents facilitators create camaraderie and solidarity among the group."

This fall, the centers participating in the training session will begin recruiting parents to serve as Parent Per Trainers who will then help present a series of ten weekly classes to other parents.

"Parenting a child with hemophilia presents many issues that families with healthy children never face," said Sandra Joseph, co-author of the PEP program.

"From disciplining a child who is thought of as more fragile than his siblings to the impact of parental feelings on their carrier status, parents must strike a balance between protecting their child and providing freedom to discover his possibilities."

Parents Empowering Parents is supported through an educational grant from Partners in Progress®, the hemophilia outreach program of Bayer Corporation. For more information on PEP call (215) 862-9055.

Healthcare savings split with employees

Saint Therese Medical Center, a division of the Franciscan Sisters Healthcare Corporation in Waukegan, has shared $500,000 in healthcare savings with its employees.

"Wellness by Choice" was designed so any savings in employee healthcare costs would be shared between the hospital and the staff. Those who participated in the new wellness program earned credits; each individual's share would be based on the number of wellness credits earned.

In the final analysis after the savings were tabulated, each wellness credit was worth $477. There were 327 employees who received their cash payout in April for the savings accrued in 1995. Total savings shared between the Medical Center and its employees was $597,182.

Saint Therese's healthcare costs decreased by 12.5 percent in 1995 on a per capita basis. In comparison, employee healthcare costs at other divisions of the corporation increased by 3.9 percent. The health benefits plan offered to all employees was essentially the same.

"Wellness by Choice" was a cooperative effort between the management of Saint Therese Medical Center and its employees. Management and a representative group of employees participated in a design team to structure the new program. They reviewed a wide range of information and developed a comprehensive plan. The incentive plan for sharing cost savings was designed as a result of that planning effort.

Health benefit plan changes were suggested. The employee fitness center was remodeled and expanded with a grant from the Medical Center's Foundation and employees' willingness to begin paying user fees. A health information resource center and walking trails for employees were established. The cafeteria revised its prices to make healthy foods more attractive, while these options were increased and their nutritional content labeled. Medical self-help and consumerism classes were held to make employees more aware of the impact of their decisions to access healthcare services.

A body mechanics class was offered for those who reported lower back pain, a precursor to on-the-job back injuries. Nutrition classes were offered for those who were significantly overweight. A chronic disease management program was established and stress management breaks were offered at various worksites throughout the medical center. Health risk appraisals were offered.

"Wellness by choice" is an example of what can be achieved when a company and its employees work together," said Timothy Selz, president of Saint Therese Medical Center. "We wanted to be a hospital that helps to improve the health status of the community that we serve, and we know that we would need to start by learning how to do that for ourselves."

Newest acute care center now open

The Condell Acute Care Center at Gurnee Mills opened its doors and began serving patients this week.

"We are open from 8 a.m. to midnight every day of the year," explained Kathy Schrank, RN, manager of Condell Medical Center's new affiliate. "If you need to see a doctor and don't want to wait, Condell Acute Care Centers, right in the neighborhood for many Lake County communities, provide families with experienced physicians and professional medical care without an appointment. The building will also house a Condell Physical Therapy and Rehabilitation Clinic."

The Gurnee facility is the fourth center in the Condell Acute Care Network in Lake County, located in Buffalo Grove, Vernon Hills, Round Lake Beach and now at Gurnee Mills at the corner of Grand Ave and Hunt Club Rd.

"Like the other centers, it will be staffed by physicians, registered nurses holding certification in advanced cardiac life support, and trained in paramedic protocols. Experienced medical technologists will coordinate the full service medical laboratory and sophisticated radiology equipment to facilitate diagnosis and treatment delivered close to home for Gurnee area residents," explained Schrank.

"Our grand opening celebration will be held on Saturday, June 22, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., and we are inviting our neighbors in the Gurnee area to visit and celebrate with us."

Built on 2.7 acres at the northeast corner of the Gurnee Mills property, the 15,240-square-foot Acute Care Center and physicians' office building will be accessible from Mall Dr.

In addition to the Acute Care Center, physician office suites will accommodate members of the Condell Medical Center medical staff.

The project cost of $2 million for the building includes the build-out of professional office suites. The design accommodates various outpatient procedures including laboratory, mammography and general radiological services.

For additional information about the Gurnee facility or any of the Condell affiliate organizations, call the public relations office at 362-2905, ext. 5275.

At Victory, we stick to the latest surgical techniques.

(And some old-fashioned values, too.)

For more than 100 years, Victory Memorial Hospital has been changing to meet the needs of our community. Sophisticated equipment, modern technology - we've got it. But one thing we haven't changed is our belief in the value of good old-fashioned TLC.

Many of Victory's surgical patients experience the advantages of endoscopic surgery, often called "band-aid" surgery. Our patients appreciate the shorter stay, smaller scars and faster recovery time endoscopic surgery offers.

And, over the years we've always understood that modern technology can't take the place of compassion and genuine concern. We take special care to make our patients comfortable before and after surgery. A pre-surgical nurse answers their questions and assures their tests are complete. A surgical video helps the patient understand the process step by step. A team of qualified professionals takes care of them while they are here, and a surgical nurse follows up with the patient by phone once they've gone home.

To learn more about Victory's surgical staff and philosophy please call

1-800-THE CHOICE (843-2464).

Mildred Corris will be celebrating her 90th birthday on June 5, 1996. An open house will be held in her honor on Sunday June 2 at the Russell Church, from 1:30 to 4:00 in the afternoon.
Mildred began her forty-four years of teaching at York House school in 1924. She taught at Big Hollow, Roseville, Rosecrans and Russell, for a total of twenty-eight years in ONE ROOM schools. Upon completion of her Degree, she moved to Newport in 1953, and to Beach School in 1958, to complete another sixteen years. She retired in January 1970, due to health problems. Mildred is looking forward to seeing many of her friends and former students at the Open House on June 2, 1996.

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q: I work in the Human Resource department of a mid-sized company where I am responsible for finding, screening and interviewing applicants for positions within a variety of departments. While I am able to keep up with the paper flow and the tedious chore of interviewing, I am finding that I cannot get department heads to agree enough to accomplish the final result... the hiring! While I have been with this company for 3 years, nothing seems to have changed. The company has a 2 interview process and the department heads all have positions that need to be filled immediately. When it comes to making a move, they drag their feet until it is too late. I am finding myself repeatedly trying to fill the same employment slots over and over, not because the candidates aren't qualified, but rather because by the time these department heads make their decisions, the candidates have taken jobs elsewhere. I have spent the past 6 weeks interviewing for 4 different positions for which I had a minimum of 3 candidates each for these supervisors and managers to meet. First interviews went well, with the supervisors. The problem seems to be in chasing the managers all over to get them to commit to the second interview. The position I am in can often be a thankless one yet I love what I do. Changes need to be made. I don't know quite what the changes should be as yet, but I am working on a presentation. Do you have any suggestions that could possibly aid me in my presentation? Thanking you in advance for your help. K.G. - Vernon Hills

A: First thing is to know the type of employment market you are currently faced with. Understand that the job market is strong and jobs plentiful. While you will see more and more positions advertised in the newspaper, that does not even begin to touch the surface of thousands that are not advertised. Along with this type of market comes the employment seeking individual who seldom puts "all their eggs in one basket", so to speak. During the time that you may be interviewing them for a position within your company, they may, and most likely are, exercising several employment options, often taking the first thing that comes up (obviously not always recommended). Therefore it is essential that the employers do not "drag their feet". These candidates in this market are here today and gone tomorrow. You must convince your managers and supervisors of the sense of urgency that has been placed in your hands by them. In order for you to operate in the manner to which you can best utilize your time and skill, changes need to be made, as top candidates are ending up at other corporations and possibly the competition, due to the current problems in expediting the hiring process. My suggestion: When finding candidates that you believe are well suited for these positions, schedule the first and second interviews on the same day. Have each supervisor and manager when issuing you an order for hire, also supply you with a full weeks worth of availabilities in 30 minute increments. Match these up so that both parties can meet on the same day to either hire or rule out the individual. You will find that this works to your advantage all the way. It will alleviate your problem of losing good applicants and will inevitably make you a hero when your abilities show through and the lengthy hiring problems are gone. Good luck.

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee & Vernon Hills. Letters can be sent to Nancy at 4949 Grand Ave., Gurnee, IL 60031.

—Ask Don Garltis— Allow engine to cool completely when it overheats

Q: A thermostat not suitable to my 1987 Honda Accord was installed and apparently caused the engine to overheat. Kindly advise what damage I can expect as a result of the overheating.—Marvin H.

A: It's never good when an engine overheats, but you can minimize the damage if you shut the engine down as soon as the overheating occurs, allowing it to cool complete. It is important not to add water or coolant until the cool-down is complete. If the engine runs properly after this procedure—no misfires, excessive oil use or smoke, then you are probably OK. On the other hand, if the engine continues to run in an overheated condition, you can expect the following: broken rings, cracked heads or block, blown head gasket and finally engine seizure. With this kind of extreme damage, you might as well junk the motor and replace it with a reliable engine or buy an entirely new vehicle.

Q: We drive an old Honda Accord with a manual transmission that has been garaged for over a year. What would you recommend be done before the car is put back on the road and into service?—Peter M.

A: If you are mechanically inclined, you should do the following: First, check all the fluid levels, especially the brake fluid. Check the brake pedal to assure stopping ability. Install a new battery, since the old one is sure to be dead. Check all the hoses, fuel line, radiator, vacuum lines, etc. Start the engine and allow it to reach normal operating temperature. Check and see if it has proper oil pressure. Move the vehicle slowly and check brakes for proper operation. I cannot overemphasize the importance of the brakes; in such cases, they're what usually malfunction. If all of this checks out, change the oil and filter just to be on the safe side.

Q: I recently purchased a 1982 Buick Riviera with 20,000 miles on it, a real cream puff. There were brake problems with the car (surging and stopping), so I replaced the disc brake pads on all four wheels, had the rotors turned and the master cylinder replaced. I am unable to "lock up" the wheels, like in a panic stop. I feel the isn't normal. Can you tell me the cause of my problem?—James C.

A: If the Buick was mine, I would certainly replace the front and rear calipers. An older car that isn't been driven regularly will develop brake problems such as you have described. I would also replace all of the fluids at this point. Again, since it wasn't driven very much, I would question the type of maintenance the car received prior to your ownership.

Keep cars safe, sound by checking it regularly

Picture yourself in this late night scenario. You walk briskly to your car, that sits on an empty, dimly lit parking lot. You breathe a sigh of relief as you slide behind the wheel and turn the key.

But a disheartening "click-click-click" from the starter says you've waited too long to heed earlier warning signs of a weak battery. Now you are vulnerable!

Safety and security, of increasing concern to drivers, has lured buyers to cars with anti-lock brakes, air bags, remote keyless entry, alarm systems and other such features. None of the above is of much value if you can't get started or, down the road, if your car stalls or fails to stop at an intersection.

The security feature desperately needed in that hypothetical parking lot situation was nothing more than a healthy battery. A little preventive care could have averted this problem.

We take our cars for granted, expecting them to start and get us to our destinations without incident. And usually they do... until neglect catches up with us. Nearly half of all emergency road service calls are for starting trouble, most of which is due to neglected maintenance.* Even more frightening, 8% of all fatal accidents are due to mechanical failure of the vehicle, and that's nearly always a result of owner neglect.

A survey shows people fear brake failure more than any other car crisis, yet brakes continue to be among the most neglected systems on the vehicle.

So our concerns about safety and security are well founded. Further, we do know most car trouble can be avoided through periodic checks and maintenance. Discovering and replacing a defective tire before it fails, for example, can save an accident. Being aware of smearing windshield wipers... and replacing them before you need them... is another critical part of car care.

Your personal safety largely depends on you, especially where your vehicle is concerned. Proper car maintenance is the best way to know you're secure. (While the battery generally is blamed, the trouble often is traced to other parts of the electrical system or to the fuel or ignition systems.)

The most critical factor about keeping your car safe and sound is checking it regularly. Car Care Council offers a useful brochure entitled "How to Find Your Way Under the Hood and Around the Car." Send a self-addressed stamped envelope to Car Care Council, Department UH, One Grande Lake Drive, Port Clinton OH 43452.

Is your car ready for a vacation?

The joys of spring! Doing those home and garden chores you've put off until the weather broke. Suddenly it's summer and you realize your faithful car has been deprived of attention, still running on dirty oil and aging spark plugs. It's filthy inside and out, including the cooling system.

Two reasons for maintenance neglect are the popularity of self-service gas pumps (which leaves under-hood checks to the driver) and lack of understanding of what checks and services need to be done periodically.

Systems and components usually requiring seasonal attention include:

Cooling system

- Flush, drain and replace antifreeze.
- Test, inspect and replace needed parts.

Engine

- Diagnostic and tune-up services as needed.
- Oil and filter change (check all fluids).

Tires/wheels/brakes

- Rotate and inspect tires.
- Balance and check alignment.
- Inspect braking system.

Vision

- Replace/aim headlights.
- Replace worn windshield wiper blades.

Appearance

- Clean and polish/wax exterior.
- Clean interior, repair/replace damaged or worn fabrics.

For more information, write: Car Care Council, Dept. UH, One Grande Lake Dr., Port Clinton, OH 43452

Take this cooling system quiz

Here are five multiple choice questions on the cooling system:

1. For maximum freeze protection, antifreeze mixture should be:

- half antifreeze and half water.
- pure antifreeze.
- 70 percent antifreeze, 30 percent water.

2. A radiator cap is designed to:

- keep water from sloshing out of the radiator.
- keep the cooling system operating at a specified pressure.
- last indefinitely.

3. A broken drive belt can cause:

- overheating.
- a loss of power steering.
- a dead battery.

4. In the cooling system the thermostat:

- controls the engine temperature.
- works the air conditioner.
- modulates the diodes.

5. Cooling systems on many cars today:

- have no water pump.

b. never needs to be flushed.

c. are equipped with an electric fan on the radiator.

Answers

1. (c) is correct, although a 50/50 solution is adequate for most climates, protecting to -34 degrees. Never use pure antifreeze.

2. (b) is correct. And when replacing the cap, be sure to install the right one for your vehicle. Pressure recommendations vary.

3. Because all three functions are dependent upon the drive belt (or belts) all three answers are correct.

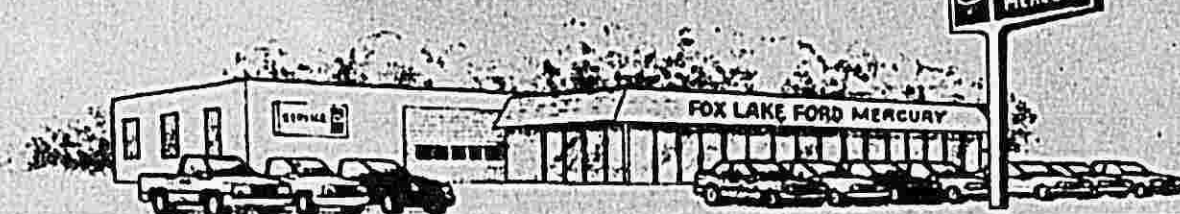

4. (a) is correct. A thermostat that allows an engine to run too hot or too cold can damage the engine.

5. (c) is correct. Today's smaller, fuel efficient vehicles achieve some of their efficiency through the use of a battery powered electric fan which turns on only as needed, when signaled by a heat sensor.

Take car buying IQ before leaving home

Are you really ready to plunk down 63 percent of your annual income (the bite out of the median household income) for a new car?

Are you smart enough to get the most of all that money in today's marketplace?

Take this quick quiz and see just how car-smart you are.

Then, call Consumer Reports New Car Price Service to order: you'll get the sticker price vs. dealer invoice on the vehicles you're considering, and more.

You'll get tips on dealing with dealers, plus details on options, packages, and rebates.

Reach the reliable source of the new-car information you need at 1(800)395-4400.

Answers

1. c: An intimidating

269 different models await the 1996 new-car buyer. Imagine how much time it would take to do the research on just three or four!

2. b: White is the preferred color for new cars in most categories except Sport/Compact—here, dark green rules.

3. b: There are fully 137 models of light trucks to choose from.

4. b: The average price paid for a new car in 1995 was $20,209.

For the median household, that's 63 percent of the annual income, and the best reason to be prepared before you walk into a dealership.

5. a: May and June are the months in which car sales are highest, followed by August. The fewest car sales by month are in February.

6. c: The best selling vehicle in '95 was a truck: the Ford F-Series pickup, followed by the Chevrolet C/K Pickup and the Ford Explorer.

7. c: The popular Ford Taurus continued its reign as the top-selling car in 1995, followed by the Honda Accord, Toyota Camry and Honda Civic.

8. b: Almost 9 million cars are expected to be purchased in America this year, according to projections. Full two-thirds of car-buyers say they dread negotiating for those cars, but tips on turning the process to consumers' advantage are in the New Car Price Reports.

9. c: An average savings of $1,110 was achieved by customers armed with negotiating tips and auto cost figures from Consumers Reports New Car Price Service, according to a survey. Knowing what the dealer paid can really pay off.

10. a: About 21 percent of new cars are leased, and light trucks are close behind at 16 percent (including pickups, minivans and sport-utility vehicles).

11. a: Lexus was rated first in customer satisfaction for the fifth straight year in 1995, followed by Infiniti, Saturn, Acura and Volvo.

12. c: Infiniti G20. The most recent annual Consumers Reports survey of subscribers named the Infiniti G20 as the most reliable mid-sized model. Other reliable vehicles are: Lexus LS 400, Toyota Previa, Mazda MX-5 Miata, Honda Accord and Acura Legend. The Mercury Topaz is the least reliable.

PET OF THE WEEK

ROX "ROX" is a handsome, young male cream Labrador mix with warm buff brown highlights in a short coat. Just 18 months old this mid-size dog is a bit shy at first. But once you gain his trust he will willingly share with you his GENTLE, RESPONSIVE, AFFECTIONATE nature. Rox is SMART and TRAINABLE and CAN SIT on command. Basic obedience training will help Rox to gain confidence and feel secure. He is also WONDERFUL WITH CHILDREN and both CALM and SWEET. Rox has been checked by several vets and has a problem of mild incontinence. Although housebroken, he dribbles tiny amounts of urine and the condition has resisted treatment. This is a dog who dearly wants to be somebody's friend, and who definitely wants to be loved. The ideal environment for Rox would be a heated barn or stable, where he would get lots of loving attention during the day, and have a warm, safe, comfortable and protected environment at night. Here since 6/95, Rox is waiting for his chance to be loved, in cage 70. ALL DOGS BENEFIT FROM BASIC HOUSEBREAKING AND OBEDIENCE TRAINING WHICH HELPS BOND DOG TO OWNER. Cash $55 donation includes free spay/neuter, collar, tag, leash, first shots, and much more. Orphans of the Storm is located at 2200 Riverwoods Rd., Deerfield. Hours are 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., seven days a week. Call (847) 945-0235 for further information.

LANNIE

A wide country style porch, complete with railings and posts, gives the Lannie the appeal of an old-style country home. However, the interior of this two story home has a contemporary flavor. Just inside the front door, a U-shaped stairway, with polished colonial wood dowel posts and banister, leads upstairs, visually separating the dining room from the family room. Due to its uncon-ventional placement in the center of the room, a bridge at the top connects the stairway to the two upstairs bedrooms. Those two bedrooms share a bath. An extra vanity, which provides make-up space outside the bathroom, will be a sure hit with teens.

The stairs and bridge create lofty perches for watching and joining the action below, and are great for family announcements. For relaxing after dinner, the sunken parlor allows for private con-versations or meditation.

The arched entry to the dining room from the kitchen, makes it easy for the cook of the house to serve those formal meals.

The kitchen, nook, and family room run together. French doors fill the family room with light and offer easy access to the deck for leisurely meals outside when the weather is inviting. A colonial fireplace for family photos and heirlooms is located off the large family room.

The study offers privacy to a small home business or the studious teen of the house.

The master suite has a large walk-in closet and an entrance, through French doors, to the deck for those sunny afternoons. The master suite has a private bath. The amenities include a custom tub, shower, and his and her vanities, that provide enough space for putting on make-up and shaving.

For a study kit of the LANNIE (401-35), send $10.00, to Landmark Designs, P.O. BOX 2307-LP60, Eugene, OR 97402 (Be sure to specify plan name & number). For a collection of plan books featuring our most popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark, or call 1-800-562-1151.

TAKE YOUR TIME AND CONSIDER CAREFULLY WHENEVER YOU DECIDE TO CHANGE DRIVERS.
TALK TO YOUR PRO, AND "TEST DRIVE" CLUBS UNTIL YOU FIND ONE THAT FITS YOUR SWING- PARTICULARLY YOUR TEMPO.

YOU'LL DO BEST WITH A STIFF - SHAFT IF YOU SWING FAST AND HARD. IF YOU ARE A RELATIVELY SLOW AND EASY SWINGER, A SOFTER SHAFT WILL SERVE YOU BETTER.
ALSO TAKE THE ESTHETICS INTO ACCOUNT - IT'S HARD TO HIT WELL WITH A CLUB THAT DOESN'T "LOOK RIGHT" BEHIND THE BALL.
